GANGLAND GUNS KILL TWO IN PENNSYLVANIA

Racketeers Victims in Philadelphia and Braddock.

ONE "ON SPOT"
Second Man Called From Bed and Slain.

Gangland guns today claimed two victims in Pennsylvania. Arthur Callen, of Philadelphia, and James Bruno, of Braddock, both alleged racketeers, were shot to death. Callen, self-styled "king" of Philadelphia gangsters, was "put on the spot" while Bruno was called from his bed and slain.

Body Found in Alley
PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 2.—(INS)—The bullet-riddled body of Arthur Callen, retired racketeer and self-styled "king" of Philadelphia gangsters, was found lying in an alley near Fairmount park at 2:50 o'clock this morning. Police believe he was "put on the spot" by rival gangsters.

Callen was known as the "Al Capone of Philadelphia." He owned a sumptuously-furnished mansion in the fashionable suburb of Overbrook, only a block away from the home of Mayor Kendrick, and was reputed to have made millions in running liquor before he retired about a year ago.

Callen was arrested dozens of times during his sensational career but never convicted.

Fear Renewal of Bootlegging War
BRADDOCK, Pa., Aug. 2.—(INS)—James Bruno, 38, racketeer and police court character was shot to death here today by two men who called him from his bed to talk over a "proposition" according to a statement made by Bruno just before he died in Braddock General hospital, police said.

County Detectives feared the killing may be renewal of a bootlegging war that has remained dormant for more than two years.

Shot in the chin, face and abdomen, the racketeer was brought to the hospital by persons residing in the vicinity of Moody and Margaretta streets, where the shooting took place. He told a story of being backed against a brick wall by one man while the other stood a few feet away and executed him with slugs from a shotgun.

Two girls and a man arrested by Patrolman Leslie Curran near the Colonial pottery, River road, at 9:40 o'clock last night, paid fines totaling $53 in municipal court today.

Misses Bonetta Barnes and Violet Mort, Second street, were fined $10 and costs each. The former was charged with disorderly conduct, while Miss Mort was arrested as a suspicious person. Daniel Moore, Wellsville, was fined $15, for disorderly conduct. Another man escaped police said.

ON roller bearings, The Olympian runs as smoothly as a baby carriage. One engine starts and pulls smoothly, a train of 20 cars. It could pull only 13 cars without roller bearings. Just now, between Milbank and Summit, South Dakota, the train with one engine, goes 30 miles an hour up a steep grade, where two huge engines formerly puffed slowly pulling a shorter train. H. A. Scandrett, president of the St. Paul, manages a good railroad well.

THIS road from Lake Michigan to the Pacific, just under the roof of the United States, runs along a straight line separating from British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan, and Manitoba, what is known to the east as "God's own country." The East should come here and get acquainted with that country.

ABOUT six in the morning, Jens K. Grönlund's "Red Wing Re-publican" in a story told by Frank A. Carlson, reminds us that we should praise the Lord, for modern comforts.

Mr. Carlson came to Red Wing 75 years ago, a boy of 11, with a party of emigrants. They slept on the river bank the first night, with Indian campfires above them on a hill. A Swedish Lutheran church stands on that hill now.

SEVEN of the twenty died of cholera, and were buried secretly, that the Indians might not know of their weakened man power.

Men like Frank A. Carlson, whose father cut trees and built their log hut not far from the Indian fires, and other Scandinavians who soon joined them, were real pioneers to whom this country owes much. That should be remembered by others whose pioneers.

ORANGE BLOSSOMS FOR HER SOON?

Time and time again during the last year the name of Miss Caroline Bishop was connected with that of Gene Tunney in varied reports of their engagement. There never was anything to it. Now Caroline has picked herself a more obscure person to be her husband in the person of Martin Stelling, Jr., of San Francisco, Calif. They will be married shortly.

WEST ORANGE, N. J., Aug. 2.—A modest, 16-year-old boy with horn-rimmed glasses and a distinct scientific inclination—Wilbur B. Huston, of Seattle, Wash.—today was crowned the smartest boy in America and won the life-time patronage of Thomas A. Edison, the great inventor.

Young Huston, son of Bishop A. Arthur Huston, of the Protestant Episcopal church, was selected from 49 boys from every state as the result of his brilliant answers to a questionnaire examination prepared by Edison himself.

Four other boys, not quite as mentally accurate as Huston, were awarded college tuition scholarships. Ranked equally, they were:

Charles H. Brunken, of West Redding, Conn.

Ivan A. Getting, of Pittsburgh.

James Seth, of Santa Fe, New Mexico.

Bernard Sturgis, of Butler, Ind.

N. B. O. P. Acts to Reorganize Workers in Sanitary Trade

Meeting is Called in Trenton, N. J., Tonight.

Steps looking toward the reorganization of the sanitary workers, approved at the 39th annual convention of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters at Atlantic City, early in July, will be taken at a meeting in the Ribson building, Trenton, tonight.

The meeting has been arranged by First Vice-President George Cardridge, in charge of the Brotherhood's Trenton office. Several sanitary ware manufacturers have expressed the hope that their employees affiliate with the Brotherhood, according to officers of the organization.

Frank Hull, national organizer, and other local officers are expected to visit Trenton to assist in the reorganization work.

CO-ED MURDER STORY RELATED BY WITNESSES

Dr. Snook Hears Carpenter Tell of Struggle.

SCUFFLE IS SEEN
Theora Hix's Wearing Apparel on Table in Courtroom.

BY JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

COURTROOM, COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 2.—The story of a man and a young woman struggling near a parked car on a lonely rifle range outside the city on the night of June 13, last, was related to the witness stand today by Clarence R. Murray, a carpenter, at the trial of Dr. James H. Snook for the murder of Miss Theora Hix, young Ohio State university co-ed. She was hammered and slashed to death on this rifle range that night.

"It was about 8:45 p. m.," said Murray, who lives with his family of ten children in the vicinity. "I was driving a car and had two of my daughters, Flossie, 11, and Bertha, 13, in the back seat. I stopped at the railroad crossing near the range."

"I saw a man and a woman scuffling around. A car, a blue Ford coupe, was parked nearby. The man had his arms around the lady's waist and she had her hands on his chest, as if she was trying to push him away."

Witness Illustrates Scene
Murray stood up, left the stand, and at the request of an assistant prosecutor, illustrated for the jury how the couple were "scuffling."

The assistant prosecutor posed as the man.

"Her hair was down around her shoulders," declared the witness. As he resumed the stand, "She had on a reddish-brown dress."

On a table near the witness stand were articles of feminine wearing apparel, including Theora Hix's brown crepe dress, stained with blood.

"Before my car got to where they were they ceased struggling," Murray continued. "She had gone to one side of the car and stood with her hands up, as if she were arranging her hair."

The girl was "fairly tall," about five feet six or seven, and weighed about 140 pounds, Murray said.

The witness declared he did not pay much attention to the man. He seemed about the same size "although he was standing on lower ground."

Murray testified that he told his wife about the incident that night. On cross-examination he denied he had told the police about the matter in order to break into the newspapers.

Boy Tells of Finding Body
Paul Kumlau, a high school boy, who, with a companion, Milton Miller, went to the rifle range on June 14 to practice shooting, told of finding Miss Hix's body.

"I noticed an object in the weeds, and upon investigating found that it was the body of a woman, later identified as Miss Theora Hix," Kumlau testified.

"She was lying face down and her

SCHOOL BOARD SEEKS ROOM IN LA CROFT ZONE

Building Needed Before Opening of Fall Term.

PARENTS APPEAL

Miss Taylor Named Religious Education Director.

A committee of the board of education will confer with a delegation of LaCroft and Sherwood residents in an effort to obtain a lease on the LaCroft chapel for first and second grade school purposes during the fall term which opens September 3. It was decided last night.

William Barrett, spokesman for the LaCroft-Sherwood delegation of parents, said a site is available if the board sought around.

A church building was used for school purposes last year. In the event it cannot be leased, district children will be required to attend the Glenmoor or the Pleasant Heights school.

The D. F. Nellis & Sons' company were awarded the contract for the construction of a retaining wall around the Sixth street school on their bid of $1,321.50. Contracts for the interior decorating of the Horace Mann school and the exterior painting of the Gardendale school was referred to Vice President Ferguson, Member Croxall and John Hughes, superintendent of buildings. Three bids were submitted, lowest, $775, by J. W. Taylor, Dixonville. J. E. Horger and company offered a bid of $806, while Seckman & Randolph asked $900. Bids for the furnishing of coal for the school buildings will be opened at the next meeting.

Prof. Laughlin's Salary Increased.

Germany's Queen of Skies, Enroute From Friedrichshafen With 18 Passengers, Including Two Women, Crosses Spanish Territorial Waters To Ocean, Cadiz Dispatch Says.

TERRIFIC HEADWINDS CUT SPEED OF DIRIGIBLE OVER 100-MILE GAP

Hamburg Weather Bureau Reports Giant Aircraft Will Encounter Favorable Weather Between Strait and Azores, With Rain and Fog Between Islands and Bermuda Area.

By International News Service.
Germany's Queen of the Skies—the dirigible Graf Zeppelin—which is enroute from Friedrichshafen, Germany, to Lakehurst, N. J., with 18 passengers, including two women, crossed Spanish territorial waters to the Atlantic ocean today.

A dispatch from Cadiz, Spain, saying that the Graf passed that port at 5:50 o'clock, or 12:50 a. m., East Liverpool time, indicated that the airship had again run into terrific headwinds over the Gulf of Cadiz and the eastern Atlantic.

According to advices from Spanish sources to International News Service it took the ship nearly three hours to cover the 100-mile water route between the Strait of Gibraltar and Cadiz.

Counter winds have held the Graf's speed down to an average of 48 miles an hour since leaving Friedrichshafen, whereas Dr. Hugo Eckener, the commander, had hoped to maintain an average speed of from 60 to 65 miles an hour, increasing it with the assistance of favorable tail winds.

Ship Picks Up Speed.

Despite the dispatches showing that the Graf's speed had been reduced evidently by strong winds out of the west, the Hamburg, Germany, weather bureau said that the ship would encounter favorable weather between the Strait of Gibraltar and the Azores.

—If Dr. Eckener followed the Azores route. The Hamburg weather bureau added, however, that winds, rain and fog prevailed between the Azores and the Bermuda area.

PARIS, Aug. 2.—(INS)—The Graf Zeppelin was 600 miles west of Gibraltar, out over the Atlantic ocean, this afternoon, according to a dispatch received from Casablanca, Morocco, at 3:40 o'clock, or 10:40 a. m., New York Daylight Saving time.

The Casablanca dispatch said that the radio station at that place was in communication with the Graf Zeppelin and that the airship reported her position as 600 miles west of Gibraltar and said all on board were well.

The foregoing dispatch indicated that the Graf had picked up speed after leaving the Gulf of Cadiz.

The Zeppelin was heading direct for the Azores, it was assumed from her report of her afternoon position.

BEETHAM URGES LAW OBSERVANCE

LISBON, O., Aug. 2.—An appeal for law observance and assistance in enforcement was made by State Prohibition Commissioner Rupert R. Beetham, Cadiz, in an address before 40 members of the Kiwanis club and their guests at the luncheon meeting in the parish house of the Methodist Episcopal church yesterday.

Beetham said that drunkenness had decreased under prohibition, while deaths from alcoholism had been "cut in half" during the last 10 years. Enforcement work is improving in most counties of the state, he declared.

Beetham, who drove to Lisbon from his home in Cadiz, was introduced by H. C. Leonard, president of the club.

MISS MALENA PRINCE BECOMES BRIDE OF JOHN DE NARDO, MIDLAND

Pretty Wedding is Solemnized in Presentation Church by Rev. Father Breen.

MIDLAND, Pa., Aug. 2.—A pretty wedding was solemnized yesterday morning in the Presentation Catholic church by the Rev. Father J. A. Breen, when Miss Malena Prince, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Prince, of 573 Midland avenue, became the bride of John DeNardo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter DeNardo, 223 Midland avenue.

The wedding march was played by Miss Louise Matties. Chester Brogan was the soloist. The bride was given away by her father.

Mrs. Rose Galle, Meadville, was the maid of honor, while Nicholas Galle, Meadville, was the best man. The bridesmaids were Misses Rose Ross, Wellsville, O., Sadie Giambroni, Angeline Ravetta, of the Steel City and Clara Gratty, of Conway. The flower girls included Misses Catherine Amato and Minnie Mergie. Andrew Giambroni was ringbearer and Nicholas Daramo, Alfred Boyle, Frank Azarelli and Nicholas DeNardo were ushers.

The bride was gowned in white satin and lace and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and white roses. The maid of honor was dressed in pink satin and picture hat and carried pink tea roses. The bridesmaids wore pastel shade gowns with hats to match.

After a two weeks' honeymoon in New York state and Canada, Mr. and Mrs. DeNardo will be at home to friends at 223 Midland avenue.

DaNardo is employed in the Pittsburgh Crucible Steel company plant here.

More than 200 attended the wedding breakfast in the Italian lodge rooms, Midland avenue. Music for the dancing in the afternoon and evening was in charge of the Scalps and Ramblers orchestra. The breakfast was in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Rufo.

Out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. James Dreco and Mr. and Mrs. James Ross and daughter, Rose, of Wellsville, O., and Mr. and Mrs. John Mato and Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Galle, Meadville.

19 CANDIDATES SEEK OFFICE IN STEEL CITY

Republicans Qualify for Primaries on Sept. 15.

NO DEMOCRATS

Winners Unlikely to be Opposed in Fall Election.

MIDLAND, Pa., Aug. 2.—Nineteen Steel City Republicans filed petitions with the clerk of the county commissioners, Joseph S. Edwards, Beaver, today, seeking nomination in the September 15 primaries.

Since no Democrats have qualified, it is unlikely that the Republican nominees will be opposed in the fall election.

Ten signatures are required for each petition. The deadline for filing is August 13.

Three county officials, a prothonotary and two jury commissioners, will be nominated.

Burgess Charles McNeill and four members of council, O. L. P. Pringle, P. P. Rogers, P. A. Fensler and Robert Lloyd and tax collector, W. A. Filsen, have filed for re-election.

B. C. Colcord, E. B. Beglin and R. L. Geary are candidates for the six-year term of the school board, while Dr. J. A. Helfrich seeks the two-year term.

Officers of the First precinct election board who seek re-election are: Harry Jacobs, judge, H. B. Kissinger, inspector, and R. A. Strayer, register assessor. Second precinct board candidates are: Alex Komara, judge, John Ciclich, inspector, and John Goyak, register assessor.

Homer Coffin, Miss Ida B. Phillips, and Margaret Moran, have filed for the auditor positions of six, four and two-year terms, respectively.

Week of Absentee Voting

Columbiana county electors who expect to be absent from their home precinct on Tuesday, August 13, when Republican and Democratic nominees will be named in eight cities and villages, have but one week in which to exercise their rights under the provisions of Ohio's absentee voter's law.

The time limit for mailing ballots, upon application, under the provisions of the 12-year-old enactment, expires on Saturday, August 10, election officials warned today as increased interest was noted in the ten-man Republican and two-cornered Democratic fights for the mayoralty places in East Liverpool.

Less than 100 men and women have applied for ballots in the respective political subdivisions, although it is conservatively estimated that more than 1,000 of the voters in East Liverpool, Wellsville, Salem, East Palestine, Salineville, Lisbon, Columbiana and Leetonia, in which elections will be held, are now, or will be, absent from their homes on primary day.

Although an elector may be 3,000 miles or more distant from his home city, election supplies shall be forwarded if he or she files a request with the supervisors. Instructions for marking the ballot are enclosed with the supplies. Ballots, if returned, are counted with those cast in the home precinct.

It is every citizen's duty to vote. Vacationists and others who are beyond the confines of their usual voting place should exercise their privilege under the law. Don't disfranchise yourself.

Hare And Tortoise Modernized

Back in what are now the dim, obscure 80's, an old river packet, the Robert E. Lee, established a great record in a race from New Orleans up to St. Louis on the turbulent, tricky bosom of the Mississippi. The old packet made the run in 50 hours and 14 minutes, beating another packet, the Natchez. When the victorious vessel docked at St. Louis on July 4, 1870, thousands of people were gathered to meet her and there was a great celebration.

On July 25, 1929, 59 years later, another boat, the Bogle, piloted by Dr. Louis Leroy landed at St. Louis, after a dash from New Orleans. One person, the wife of the pilot, was on the dock to meet the craft, which is a small open runabout built of mahogany. Dr. Johnson and two weary companions climbed on to the wharf. They were happy; after 59 years of fruitless attempts on the part of dozens of boats and pilots they had broken the great record of the Robert E. Lee. Two hours and 43 minutes had been clipped off the time of the famous old craft, but despite the storied fame of the Robert E. Lee, there was no celebration, merely a few personal greetings and the terse statement by the three-man crew that they would make no immediate effort to better the record again and that anyone else who cared to try it had a man's job ahead of them.

There is something of the famous tale of the hare and the tortoise in the account of this great race and the memory of that other great race back in 1870. In the case of the Bogle, it was the hare that finally won, but it required a half a century of effort backed by all the ingenuity of the gas engine and modern designing to do it. The Robert E. Lee would stand slight chance of victory in a short race with the Bogle, or any boat of its type, on an ordinary body of water. But, submitted to the rigors of Mississippi travel, she had the "stuff" to establish a record that promised to be everlasting.

The Bogle, capable of infinitely greater speed, stopped frequently for refueling and was so closely pressed for time that she had to make a spectacular 50-mile dash at the end of the course to conquer the phantom boat that her crew may have imagined running beside her—the old-fashioned Robert E. Lee.

It is the exception that proves the rule. The tortoise is still a more dependable racer than the hare, although on occasion the hare may be so closely pressed that it can not stop to rest. The tortoise type of river boat is almost extinct, but the tortoise type of human being will always remain.

Wilhelm Will Not Return

How little German officialdom fears the restoration of the former kaiser to the throne was made manifest, last week, when Germany's law for the defense of the republic, the measure by which he was held to have been stopped from returning to the Fatherland, was permitted to expire. The possibility of his return was considered of so little importance that the greater part of the German press did not even call attention to the law's expiration.

More than this, it has developed since the law became a thing of the past that it was passed chiefly for political reasons to calm public feeling in enemy countries and that, as a matter of fact, it could not have been enforced against the former emperor had he decided to return, no matter how unwelcome he might have been. He was a German citizen, and a German citizen can not be excluded from Germany save through a change of the constitution. He is still a German citizen, and under the constitution has the right to return and take up his residence in Germany.

That Wilhelm will do so is out of the question, so a Berlin cable holds. As a matter of fact, it is stated that he hasn't the slightest desire to return as a citizen, and would not even so much as consider returning as emperor save at the expressed desire of a majority of the people of Germany. He is not one who would be willing to return and be on an equality with the other citizens of a land in which he once was supreme.

The former kaiser possibly, in pursuit of health, might take up a temporary residence in some milder climate than that of Holland, but there is nothing to indicate that the asylum to which he fled will not be his permanent residence till the end of his days. He may continue the forms and fictions of royalty, but the substance is his no more.

HASKIN DAILY LETTER

By Frederick J. Haskin

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 2.—The United States is living in an era of tremendous business mergers and some profound lessons may be drawn from the development. Perhaps one of the most obvious is that the day of militant trust-busting such as was known in President Roosevelt's time has passed. There are flourishing today great combinations which unquestionably would have been looked at askance not so many years ago. The attorney general of the United States is by no means inactive in the field of combinations in restraint of trade but the very growth of big business in the last year or so is adequate proof that the reins are not holding the curb so tightly as in the past.

What is of peculiar interest to the consuming public is that the public appears to be the principal beneficiary of the great mergers. The national industrial conference board, a body which makes economic studies based on government and other statistics, has made an intensive study of mergers. In a recently completed report it shows four conclusions, every one of them in the public's favor, as follows: First and foremost, great combinations in industry result in a lower price level of the goods produced to the public; second, better wages and certainly steadier employment are vouchsafed the workers in these merged industries as compared with the independents; third, the big consolidations are able to maintain research laboratories and carry on experimental work which results in an improvement of their product of which the public derives the benefit; and fourth, the stocks of companies which have been merged almost invariably rise, when management has been successful, thus giving that part of the public interested in the stock market a profit on its investments.

On the other side and showing that the public rather than the controlling capitalists is the principal beneficiary, it is shown that the big mergers are not conspicuously successful financially, no huge profits accruing to the owners. However, volume of business is freer from fluctuations and, while profits are small compared with some independents, such profits as are realized can usually be depended upon.

The National Industrial Conference board confined its study to the first quarter of the present century. Sixty lines of manufacturing were brought within the scope of the study. It was shown that over the 25-year period the products manufactured by merged corporations in 26 lines increased only 28.8 per cent. This figure is contrasted with a price increase of 110.6 per cent shown in 21 lines of manufacture which have not as yet been touched by the merger fever. In 13 other fields where consolidation has been effected only partially, the average price increase has been 70.7 per cent. Taking the whole picture into view it is seen that the mergers have increased prices only half as much as the independents and that those industries partially independent.

From the economic point of view, it has been found that mergers have a tendency to smooth out the ups and downs of business. Fluctuations are narrower and the business cycle of alternate boom and depression, so productive of failures, has been measurably curbed. There seems to be no question about the increased efficiency demonstrated by the consolidated industries. Eighteen fields of industry in which consolidation has been general were particularly studied. In half of these industries, the technological progress was found to have been much more rapid, providing improved products. As against these nine amalgamated industries there were four independent lines which showed greater efficiency. The remainder of the group showed an insufficiently marked trend to admit of a reliable conclusion. On the whole, however, the amalgamated industrial efforts appeared to have the better of it, one line of manufacture showing an output 115 per cent per hour of labor greater than the average independent output. This is due to the fact that big combinations make mass production feasible.

The conclusions found by the board must not be accepted as indicating that all mergers are eminently successful. They are not. The figures are based on those which have been sufficiently well operated to remain in business over a considerable period. Many, through lack of efficient management, quickly collapse and pass out of the picture completely. Some have made high profits for a brief term and then subsided. From the point of view of the owners, amalgamations have pretty much the same experience as independents in business; that is, some make the scheme work while others fail. But where the mergers are sound and well managed they provide the public with lower priced goods, according to the board. Consolidation in itself has no magic and is no substitute for sound business judgment, according to the board.

Questions And Answers

By Frederic J. Haskin.

The answers to questions printed here each day are specimens picked from the mass of inquiries handled by our Great Information Bureau maintained in Washington, D. C. This valuable service is for the free use of the public. Ask any question of fact you may want to know and you will get an immediate reply. Write plainly, enclose two cents in coin or stamps for return postage, and address the East Liverpool Review Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C.

Q. Why is it that a bass drum is not heard over the radio? J. S. F.
 A. Many loud speakers do not reproduce very low notes well.

Q. Do racing autos have emergency brakes and hand oil pumps? G. W.

A. The rules of the contest board of American Automobile Association provide that racing cars shall be equipped with motor-driven reverse mechanism and two independently operated sets of brakes. These rules have no provision about a hand oil pump, but some drivers use them and they are always placed in front so that they can be used readily.

Q. What ship is the largest operating on the Great Lakes? T. B. T.

A. As far as we are able to ascertain, the largest ship operating on the Great Lakes is the Lemoyne which was built in 1926 and operates under the British flag. This vessel has a gross tonnage of 10,480. The largest American ship on the Great Lakes is the Henry Ford II which was built in 1924. This boat has a gross tonnage of 8,877 and is strictly an ore carrier.

Q. Is a section of land always 640 acres in the United States? H. P.

A. The rectangular system of surveys of the public domain of the United States is applicable to all public land states. A section is ordinarily one mile square and contains 640 acres. Lands in the original thirteen states never formed a part of the public domain. These may vary.

NEW YORK Day By Day

By O. O. McIntyre.

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 2.—This is a strange city of strange people that has no equal in social remoteness from the rest of the world. It gleams solely to the movie and its people. The humble are completely wrapped up in the dreams of its great Nothing else matters.

I have often wondered if cinema barons half appreciated the stimulating quality of this community in inspiring their players. It is blasphemous, just as the stage, needs fodder for its inordinate vanity. And it is fed here with a gusto.

In the eyes of Hollywood, its idols do no wrong. They will take up the cudgel for those who have toppled from high pedestals at any time day or night. I have frequently watched the most famous actors and actresses pass along Broadway without a head turning.

Probably 20 movie stars pass along a given block of Hollywood Boulevard to one star who passes along a given block of Broadway. And yet each one out here will galvanize the block into an electrical tautness. Clerks will leave customers to rush to the doors and gape.

Pedestrians will suddenly halt to pivot in curiosity. Corner groups will nudge each other and whisper. Newsboys stop yelling. Chauffeurs whistle to attract attention of their fellows. If a star turns into a shop, store or cafe, a crowd will be waiting outside for the exit.

This gesture has not that quality of idle gawkery so prevalent among the curious on Broadway. It has an obsequious—a reverence. People are actually awed and hushed into silence by the approach of the famous. Hollywood tradesmen seem little interested in any other but film patronage.

If one could sift out the emotions of Hollywood, it would likely be found that most of those not allied with the movie industry drifted here in response to its lure. It still captivates and holds them. They hug the notion they may too some day gaze down from the heights. And so they may.

A nightly curb delicacy along the boulevard is freshly popped corn well buttered and salted. And for one who can make away with a handful at any hour of the day or night the appeal of the street is tripped.

Another toothsome hot-toasty is a chain of stands with a facade fashioned into a stucco likeness of a leoparded puppy dog with eyes that roll mechanically. They are called Barkies—and inside at counters they serve the hottest of hot dogs. Woof! Woof!

Voice, diction and elocution schools are in every block now that the talkies seem likely to linger awhile and the beautiful and dumb must become articulate or go back to the five and tens. These schools supplant the riding, delirious and acrobatic schools that once seemed so essential in the knack of getting on in the movies.

And the popularity of the talkie revue has brought a flood of tap dancing studios such as those up several flights in Broadway buildings. It appears every recent revue has had someone who danced out suddenly, surprise, surprise, with a few intricate steps and ran off with the show. The hofter is having his brief hour.

They are saying that the present picture Chaplin is making will be his last. And did you hear the one about the Chinese girl and the one-legged British sailor?

For many days, the film colony was in a state of anxiety over what effect the auto accident in which Bessie Love was injured and badly cut about the face would have on her future. She is not disfigured. Miss Love is the life of many Hollywood parties and always remains for the finish yet she has never smoked or touched liquor. She is one of the early recruits who was fading from the picture when the talkies came along. Her quick comeback is a mighty inspiration to those who still hope. And no place in the world are there so many hoppers.

William Collier is to become a Hollywood fixture, which is something like transporting the Flatiron building to the West Coast. He has bought a home here and punches a clock in a talkie factory every morning.

YOUR HEALTH

An Ounce of Prevention Is Worth A Pound of Cure.

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland.

Recently the United States Public Health Service made a statement which contains much of general interest. I was glad to note the advice given regarding the care of persons sick with contagious or "catching" diseases.

There is such difference of opinion regarding these matters that it is a good thing this authoritative bureau of government has seen fit to state its views. I want my readers to have the benefit of these suggestions.

Many letters come to my desk asking for information along these lines. Perhaps I can help the cause of public safety by quoting what the service has said. I am in full accord with the advice given in this matter by this ably conducted department:

"A patient sick with a communicable disease should be isolated and some one should be detailed for his care and comfort. In such cases, wherever it is possible, the attendant should be one who has had the disease. With such a patient, communication between the patient or his nurse and other persons should be reduced to a minimum.

"Used clothing and body linen and bed clothing of the patient and nurse should be immersed in an antiseptic solution, such as carbolic acid (five per cent strength), before removal from the room, and should be kept so immersed and removed for boiling.

"Eating and drinking utensils, after being used by the patient, should be washed in boiling water. They should not be used by others until they have been sterilized by boiling.

"Finally, it should be remembered that the room from which a patient suffering with a contagious disease has been removed should be thoroughly cleansed by washing with soap and water and by adequate exposure to sunshine and fresh air before being used again.

"Two principles should always govern the care of the sick:

"1—Sick persons should receive such care as will contribute most to their comfort and to the speedy restoration of health.

"2—Scrupulous care should be taken to prevent others from contracting the disease."

You will observe that no method of fumigation is recommended. That used to be the practice, but is no longer followed.

If I were you I should cut this article from the paper and paste it in a place where you can locate it in time of trouble. The recommendations of the United States Health Service are worth following:

Most Folks Are Honest.

A year ago the rich National City bank, of New York, which finances big business, gave Wall Street a sensation by opening up a department for loans, without collateral security, to working folks who needed it badly.

After a year, however, during which the National City bank has loaned over $16,000,000 in such loans, a report is made which shows that the loss has been negligible. The vast amount of borrowers met their obligations promptly. The experience of the bank helps support the general conviction that most folks are honest. Most men and women take pride in making their word as good as their bond.

This great bank has helped more than 50,000 New York families by its small-loan policy. It helped a man finance a surgical operation for his son. It provided a waitress with enough money to bring her brother to this country from Germany. It freed many wage-earners from the toils of the loan sharks. A third of the loans were for medical and dental service; 15 per cent to pay debts and other loans; 14 per cent went for home equipment, and eight per cent more for payments on homes; education took five per cent. The repayment plan, calling for regular accounts deposited from wages, was followed by 57 per cent of the borrowers, and legal action had to be instituted for the recovery of less than one per cent of the total loans—Omaha World-Herald.

Your Opportunity.

There are times when you want to do something to make a longer and a wider mark in the world.

You feel a lot of stored up energy and think it hard luck that you don't get an opportunity to show the stuff you have in you.

You think all you need is opportunity and you look at your account of you who have made something fine and big of themselves and you call it luck.

Some day you think that this opportunity, which you will recognize as your opportunity, will come and you will seize it.

So, without making an effort to create an opportunity, your enthusiasm dies and again you curse the bad luck, which seems always against you.

But how much time have you given to hard and persistent effort; to prolonged pursuit of a chance for your own betterment?

You have excused yourself hundreds of time by saying that things don't come your way or that they don't break right for you, but you did nothing.

Hard work and self-denial you are unwilling to give and you don't want to get out and hustle, so you can stay where you are.

You are after a good time, little personal effort, easy money, but you won't get anywhere worthwhile on those lines, and it is yourself to blame. Copyright, 1929, International Feature Service, Inc.

I. W. Q.—What should a girl weigh who is 23 years old and 5 feet 4 inches tall?
 A.—For her age and height she should weigh about 127 pounds.

G. F. B. Q.—What can be done for frequent headache?
 2.—I am short of breath and troubled with brown patches on my face. What would you advise to clear up both conditions?

3.—What is the cause of a roaring in the head?
 A.—Find the cause first of all. Keep the system clear by proper diet and regular exercise. For full particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

2.—Probably due to sluggish elimination and acidity. Correct your diet and avoid indigestion.

3.—May be due to nasal catarrh, to high blood pressure or nervousness. Have an examination so that definite advice may be outlined.

MARY DUNCAN AT AMERICAN

Mary Duncan scored a tremendous personal triumph by her outstanding performance in "Thru Different Eyes," Fox Movietone murder trial mystery play, which opened last night at the American theater.

"Thru Different Eyes," an all-talking production, is by far the greatest achievement to date in Fox Movietone, and sets a mark that will presage future productions to approach Warner Baxter and Edmund Lowe.

well remembered for their marvelous performances in "In Old Arizona," first outdoor Fox Movietone production, are co-featured with Miss Duncan and again prove that they stand among the leaders of male actors in talking pictures.

Miss Duncan has a particularly difficult role as Viola Manning, a part calling for a triple characterization. As the wife of Harvey Manning, on trial for the murder of his best friend, Jack Winfield, Miss Duncan first appears as the defense attorney visualizes her; next, as seen by the district attorney, and finally as she really is. It is a role that gives Miss Duncan full scope for her histrionic talents, and that she is successful was attested by the enthusiasm of last night's audience.

Baxter, in the role of Winfield, also has a "three-way" part, as has Lowe, as Harvey Manning. Both players, favorites for several years on stage and screen, acquit themselves very creditably in this Fox Movietone production.

Others in the cast do unusually fine work, especially Sylvia Sydney as "Valerie Briand," who finally solves the murder mystery; Florence Lake, who plays a wise-cracking chorus girl; Natalie Moorehead as Mrs. Thornton and Earle Foxe, always an outstanding actor in either silent or sound pictures.

TALKING, SINGING HIT AT STATE

Litling strains of "Broadway Baby Dolls," "Wishing and Waiting for Love" and "Jig, Jig, Jigaloo," the rhythmic tapping of the feet of 50 dancing girls; the wailing saxophone and the high notes of a grand opera tenor in a theatrical boarding house; the staccato bark of gangsters' guns; and the quiet "raise you five grand" in a poker game—these and many other high spots of "Broadway Babies," were in the memories of those who attended the premiere of this first National-Vitaphone picture at the State theater, last night.

This picture, which stars the peppy young screen luminary Alice White, is thorough entertainment from first to last. It takes one behind the scenes in a big musical comedy theater; into the night clubs of gay Broadway, and into a theatrical boarding house just off the Big Street.

It is a story of theatrical life, the experience of three young hoofers who are fighting for recognition behind the footlights.

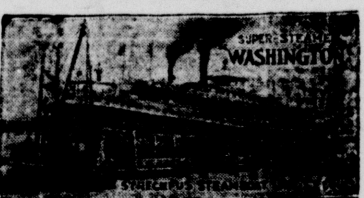

Miss White, who was a humble stenographer in Hollywood less than three years ago, demonstrates that she can sing and dance as well as act. This young Apostle of Jazz is rapidly coming to the front as a cinema artist of the first water, and in "Broadway Babies" she demonstrates a versatility that will astound her most ardent admirers.

Charles Delaney plays opposite her again, as he did in "Show Girl," and is very convincing as the love-smitten are guaranteed to bring laughter to the most blasé.

Leatrice Joy has the leading feminine role, and contributes as fine a performance as ever has been witnessed.

Farrell Macdonald is very effective in his part and Clyde Cook, Slim Summerville and Tom Wilson comprise the comedy shock troops which the former Capt. Flag of "What Price Glory?" fame leads from one rib-tickling victory to another.

"Strong Boy" was directed by John Ford, the celebrated Fox director who is best known for "Four Sons," "Mother Machree" and several other recent Fox hits.

McLAGLEN RINGS BELL AT CERAMIC

In Victor McLaglen's newest comedy, "Strong Boy" every screen player in the whole cast works as hard as he can from the first reel until the final fadeout, with the result that the current attraction at the Ceramic theater is highly entertaining. With that genial star, Victor McLaglen, in the role of chief funmaker, there is little to want for in the way of complete enjoyment.

"Strong Boy" is the story of a big, good-natured baggage smasher, whose lack of ambition nearly costs him the love of the girl. Her methods of generating the spark of "get-up" in him provide situations which neering was done at Forty-second street and Broadway.

SOUTH DAKOTA now spread out on all sides of the train, is changing from a wheat to a corn state. Farmers find more profit in handling corn to hogs than in handling wheat to middle men. The four-legged hogs, they say give you a better return for your crop.

ON HOG farms certain cornfields are left standing, hogs and cattle turned in. They trample down the corn to get at the ears and eat the fodder. It is easy to plow under what is left, thus saving labor, the problem of farmers today.

THE average farming ability is improving. Barbers, school teachers, drygoods clerks, and others, not born farmers, took up much land in the Dakotas at first. Their sons and successors do better farming.

South Dakota's crop area this year has increased 571,000 acres over 1928. Montana's increase is 224,000 acres.

Aberdeen, where this is handed to the telegraph office, is the second city of South Dakota, with 16,000 inhabitants. The state's biggest city, Sioux Falls, has 32,000 inhabitants.

MERGER gentlemen are busy here. Aberdeen had five banks recently, and has now only two. The Northwest National of Minneapolis owns one. The First National of Minneapolis and St. Paul owns the other.

THERE are two kinds of power. One comes from waterfalls, coal and oil, the other is money power, and both are rapidly becoming centered in a few hands.

ALL the easier for the people to watch them now and take action later, if the few owners act foolishly. The Len out here would not stand much foolishness.

LIGNITE beds in western South Dakota should interest power people and may keep some of them awake later.

Those beds contain one-fifth of all the low grade soft coal in the United States.

At Dickinson the lignite is made into briquettes by a German process. It ought to be transformed into electric power at the mines and transform this country into a great, independent industrial center.

THE lignite beds should interest Samuel Insull, power king of Chicago; Mr. Sloan, of the New York Edison Company, also Thomas Hitchcock, jr., who plays polo sometimes and has for regular business changing inferior coal into high grade, smokeless coal, using all its by-products.

WITH lignite, inexhaustible fuel, not used, tens of millions of acres not yet cultivated, plenty of room for a thousand million more people and able under intensive cultivation to feed the present population of the earth, it is difficult to predict what this northwestern country will be some day, when the descendants of early pioneers that fought cholera and Indians, will fly to New York or Seattle in a morning, and to Europe where their ancestors come, in twenty-four hours.

LIFE on the farm and in the inland factory will be dull no longer with Paris only 24 hours away, New York and San Francisco within reach for luncheon.

Oven Gas Explodes

Mrs. C. A. Bradley, 1781 Clark Avenue Imperiled as Flames Catch Her Clothing; Husband Smothers Fire.

WELLSVILLE, O., Aug. 2.—Mrs. C. A. Bradley, 1781 Clark avenue, was seriously burned about the face, hands and arms yesterday at noon when gas accumulated in the oven of a kitchen stove, exploded as she opened the door.

The burner in the oven had been left on previously but, it is presumed, the fire had been blown out.

Other burners adjoining the oven, however, were lighted as Mrs. Bradley pulled down the door.

As the door swung open the gas lit go with a puff of flame directly in Mrs. Bradley's face, having been ignited, presumably, by fire from one of the other burners.

Her husband, who was standing near her, smothered the fire which had caught her clothing.

Her injuries were dressed by Dr. J. M. King.

SALEM CHINAS
HERE SATURDAY

Manager Otto Householder will head his independent nine against the strong Salem China club tomorrow afternoon at Nicholson field here. The contest is scheduled for 3:30 o'clock.

Kosky will likely do the twirling for the locals. On the following afternoon, Sunday, the Wellsville club will meet the Salineville team in a return engagement on the Salem diamond.

SALINEVILLE

MRS. DORA CLOSE
CLASS HOSTESS

SALINEVILLE, O., Aug. 2.—The Philathea class of the Methodist church was entertained Wednesday night in the home of Mrs. Dora Close on the Salineville-Lisbon road. The president, Bessie Smith, had charge of the praise service. Those present were: Mesdames Etta Smith, Violet McPherson, Ella Skinner, Nola Rice, Misses Edith Close and Bessie Smith. Lunch was served by the hostess. The next meeting will be held in the home of Miss Elizabeth Kirk.

Kiwanis Clubs Holds Picnic. The annual picnic of the Kiwanis club was held Wednesday afternoon at Westville Lake, near Alliance. About 75 were present. Allen Maple and the Rev. Ross Wilson were in charge of the dinner.

Missionary Meeting. The Young Ladies' Missionary society of the United Presbyterian church held its annual picnic at Rock Springs park, Wednesday afternoon. A large crowd attended.

Salineville Personals. Mrs. Joseph Herbert who has been visiting at the home of Mrs. Charles Wallace and other friends, the last three weeks, returned to her home in Cannonsburg. Bobby Wallace accompanied her home.

Misses Mary McCormick, Grace Hart and Phyllis Carter were East Liverpool visitors Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvina Hertel were Wellsville visitors Wednesday.

Mrs. Jack Riley and Miss Hilda Collins were Minerva visitors Wednesday.

C. W. Jobson of East Liverpool was a local visitor Wednesday.

Thomas Maher, Leet Raffle, Barry Daley, Fred McGillivray, David Adams and Gus Lindner left Tuesday morning for Primrose, Pa., where they will work on the pipe line.

Mr. and Mrs. John Barcus of New Comerstown are visiting relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Judge and son, Tom, were local visitors Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Johnson and family were visitors at Lake Placid.

LOCALS SEEKING
TIE WITH KATIES

Facing the strong K. T. K. club tonight at Nicholson field, the Wellsville Inter-City league club can go in to a tie for second place with the Orrmen who last night handed the Newell club its first defeat of the second half.

If Manager Nicholson's nine cops, it will tie them with the Katies for second place.

If the Katies capture tonight's engagement, they will go into a tie with Laughlin for the league lead.

Stoffel for Laughlin and Schneidmiller for Wellsville will probably do the pitching.

MRS. AUGHINBAUGH
PARTY HOSTESS

Mrs. Charles Aughinbaugh entertained members of the Friendship Circle last night at her home in Lincoln avenue. The affair took the form of a covered lawn party.

Places were arranged for Mrs. M. R. McCall, Mrs. Tilley Mackey and Mrs. Cleo Plate, of East Liverpool, and Mrs. Martin Reight, Mrs. Frank Fiber Mrs. Ora Randolph, Mrs. Bernard Pomplum of Wellsville. Mrs. Raymond Knepper was a guest of the circle.

RUSSELL WILSON
BIRTHDAY HOST

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Wilson entertained a number of their friends last night at their home in Buckeye avenue, the affair honoring the former's birthday anniversary.

The home was attractively decorated for the occasion. Music and dancing were diversions. Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Joseph Andrews and Mrs. Cora Heinle, places being laid for 25.

Personals

Mrs. George Howe of Riverside avenue and Mrs. George B. Patterson of Main street attended a bridge party yesterday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Ambrose E. Webber, East Liverpool.

Mrs. Helen Cooper and daughter, Martha, of Broadway, are visiting at Cedar Point.

Mrs. S. D. Cornelius of Center street and granddaughter, Dorothy Wasson, of Sophia street, East Liverpool, are spending a week with friends in Massillon.

SUNDAY SCHOOL
MUSIC PLANNED

There will be no services Sunday in the Second Presbyterian church, according to announcement by the pastor, the Rev. Thomas G. Berger.

Sunday school will convene at 9:45 a. m. Special music will feature the program.

COLONELS SWAP
WITH COLUMBUS

Louisville and Columbus again swapped places in the American Association pennant race yesterday. Columbus is sixth and Louisville is fifth.

It was just the opposite yesterday, vice-versa the day before, and the other way around the day before that, which is slightly confusing but nevertheless the truth.

The Senators lost their nine-inning dispute to Minneapolis by a lone run, the score being 3 to 2. Minneapolis occupies third place and is only eight games behind St. Paul in second position.

Louisville marshaled its forces to draw a 5-to-4 decision from Milwaukee. The latter team is in seventh place and all teams ahead of the Brewers are playing such a brand of ball that it will be difficult for them to rise to any higher berth.

Kansas City, the league leaders for many moons, tomahawked the Indianapolis Indians yesterday in a vigorous little contest which ended 4 to 2. The Hoosiers are in fourth place, only five games ahead of Louisville.

Toledo lost again yesterday, this time to St. Paul, by a 6-to-3 score. The "Toledo lost again" is getting to be a form statement. St. Paul is a safe second, but a good long way from first, with nearly 11 games separating it from that position.

The Mudhens are held prisoners in the cellar and are probably wishing for the wings of angels.

Branch-line programs of two Canadian railways will involve expenditures of approximately $80,000.00.

OVERCROWDING, HEAT BLAMED IN PRISON RIOT

One Convict Killed,
Two Wounded in Leavenworth.

GUARDS UNHURT

Order Restored by Courageous Action of Warden.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—(INS).—Overcrowded conditions, dissatisfaction with food, the effect of 100 degrees temperature upon narcotic addicts and others, and knowledge of the recent prison riots in New York, were given today as causes for the riot in the Leavenworth federal penitentiary by Sanford Bates, superintendent of federal prisons.

Order has been completely restored as a result of prompt and courageous action by Warden Thomas B. White and officers, Bates said.

The dead and injured list as officially reported to date is:

Mike Martine, convict No. 36162, killed by guards.

Harold G. McLaughlin, John J. Jones and Fred Connors, convicts, wounded but not seriously.

No guards injured.

Prisoners Accounted For.

All prisoners were accounted for after a thorough check-up early today and Warden White reported that he was hopeful of preventing any further demonstration.

LEAVENWORTH, Kas., Aug. 2.—

Savo for the spasmodic outbreak of screaming, thrashing drug addicts in cell block B, the wild riot in federal prison here, one of the worst outbreaks in 30 years, had all but abated today, leaving at least one prisoner dead and several others wounded with sawed-off shotgun slugs.

All prisoners were reported returned to their cells and a partial survey was said to have indicated that none escaped. A checkup was in progress to determine whether other dead or wounded were in the cell house.

Outbreak Began in Mess Hall.

The inmate killed was Mike Martine, 30, who had served 14 months of a three-year term for smuggling. He was shot in the back.

After subduing and quieting the revolting convicts, guards today were devoting their efforts to restraining the narcotic addicts from shattering windows and tugging frantically at the bars.

The outbreak began at noon yesterday in the mess hall and was the climax of more than a week of grumbling on the part of the convicts over the fare. It was reported that they had come to loath the repeated rations of Spanish rice and light victuals.

SOVIET SEA HOP

PLANNED MONDAY

MOSCOW, Aug. 2.—(INS).—The Soviet plane "Country of Soviets" will hop off for New York, via Siberia, if weather conditions permit, it was announced today. It will make the flight by stages.

HEART ATTACK

KILLS MOTORIST

MANSFIELD, O., Aug. 2.—(INS).—Funeral arrangements are being made at Butler, near here, today for Frank Richardson, 50, who died when he was stricken with a heart attack while driving his automobile.

The automobile overturned into a ditch, but Dwight Hunter, Butler, a companion, was not injured.

Factories in Belgium making glass by machinery are increasing installations by 50 per cent.

DEATH ROLL

Mrs. Blanche Lambright, 28, wife of John L. Lambright, died after a brief illness last night in her home, 1095 High street, East End.

Besides her husband, she leaves three sons, John, Richard and Lloyd, one daughter, Glennadine; her mother, Mrs. Emma Rogers, Mattoon, Ill., and a brother, Curtis B. Carr, Knoxville, Tenn.

Funeral services will be held at the home at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, in charge of the Rev. O. L. Bonedum, pastor of the Nazarene church. Burial will be made in the Calcutta United Presbyterian cemetery.

REDS REJECT PEACE OFFER

Soviet Government
Turns Down Chinese Proposal.

By EDWARD L. DEUSS,
International News Service Staff
Correspondent.

MOSCOW, Aug. 2.—The Soviet government today dispatched a note to Marshal Chang Hsue Liang, Manchurian war lord, rejecting the Chinese offer to settle the Sino-Russian dispute.

The Chinese offer involved withdrawal of the Soviet ultimatum to the Nanking government, and demanded release of all Chinese nationals arrested in Russia.

In rejecting the offer, the Soviets expressed readiness to negotiate the dispute, but only on condition the Chinese Eastern railway is restored to its status quo ante, and that Marshal Chang admit openly that the seizure was in direct violation of the Peking and Mukden treaties.

Canton Fire Causes $10,000 Damage.

CANTON, O., Aug. 2.—(INS).—Fire swept the Henry Clothing company store here last night, caused damage estimated today at more than $10,000. The origin of the blaze has not been determined.

Ill Luck Dogs Miner's Footsteps.

MARTINS FERRY, O., Aug. 2.—(INS).—Ill luck dodged the footsteps of Joseph Pusek, a miner who was working near Bridport yesterday.

Pusek was struck on the head by a falling stone. As he was being removed from the mine, the coal car on which he was riding collided with a similar tram. The miner suffered a broken leg in the second accident.

Graf Over Ocean

this dispatch was filed, the dirigible Graf Zeppelin with its thrilled complement of 18 passengers, was approaching the vicinity of Gibraltar, and we expect to be out over the open sea by two a. m. Friday, local time (10 p. m. Thursday, New York time).

The motors are functioning perfectly, and we are encountering better weather than over Switzerland and France, where contrary winds of great violence cut down our speed considerably.

Due to severe storms over northwestern Spain, Dr. Hugo Eckener, the dirigible's commander, decided upon a rather southerly course, taking us over Almeida, Spain, the Balearic Isles and near Gibraltar. As I write this message, we are over the calm Mediterranean, making better than 50 miles an hour and heading swiftly toward the ocean.

The report that a stowaway boarded the Graf a few minutes before we took off from Friedrichshafen caused some consternation among passengers and crew, and Dr. Eckener threatened to deal harshly with him when found. A thorough search of the ship, including a detailed examination of the network of girders which comprises its frame, revealed no trace of the stowaway, however, and the conclusion has now been reached that an intruder is not aboard.

NAVAL SLASH PLAN ADOPTED

Dawes and British Premier Reported in Agreement.

BY HARRY R. FLORY,
International News Service Staff
Correspondent.

LONDON, Aug. 2.—The London Evening Standard in a late edition today will announce that Ambassador Charles G. Dawes and Premier Ramsay MacDonald have concluded preliminary negotiations looking to eventual naval disarmament.

The Standard declares that these representatives of the United States and British governments have reached a tentative agreement for a formula for naval disarmament.

This formula, according to the newspaper, is based on the following proposals:

Firstly, present battleship building programs of both countries shall be restricted;

Secondly, the size of battleships to be constructed in the future shall be decreased;

Thirdly, the life of battleships now in commission shall be prolonged, thus postponing replacement;

Fourthly, a declaration will be issued by each country concerned voicing its willingness to cease the building of submarines.

The Evening Standard says that these tentative proposals may now be communicated to the French, Italian and Japanese governments for their views.

CANTON LISTS

FOUR TRAGEDIES

CANTON, O., Aug. 2.—(INS).—Four tragic deaths, three of which were accidental, were under investigation here today by Coroner T. C. McQuate.

Burns suffered when her clothing became ignited as she was playing in her father's blacksmith shop proved fatal to Bernadette Bieringer, 12, of Waynesburg, near here.

Edward Dorsey, 30, of Dennison, was killed when he fell 18 feet from a scaffold on which he was working at the Central Alloy Steel plant at Massillon.

Clarence McNutt, 28, of Canton, died today from injuries suffered when he was thrown from a truck driven by his cousin, Ira McNutt. The victim's head struck a rock, causing brain concussion.

OHIO GIRL DIES

IN AUTO WRECK

SYRACUSE, August 2.—(INS).—Trapped in the machine in which she had been riding, when it plunged from the highway, rolled over three times and was demolished after it struck a house at Colosse, 35 miles north of here, yesterday, Miss Charlotte Buescher, 20, 9101 Jeffries avenue, Cleveland, Ohio, was killed.

She was a passenger in the car driven by her uncle Ernest H. Horst, 1062 Bryant avenue, Cleveland. The driver, his wife, and son, Fred were seriously injured and are in a hospital in this city.

School Room Wanted

tary teacher, who will study at Muskingum college, were granted by the board. Upon recommendation of the curriculum committee of the Commission on Religious Education, of which the Rev. Frederic A. Dean, is chairman, Miss Alma Taylor was re-appointed director of the school. Miss Taylor's salary is paid by a group of local churches.

Salary of H. F. Laughlin, supervisor of music in the schools, was increased from $235 to $250 a month and will be employed for 12 months.

Laughlin will assist Superintendent-elect H. G. Means in organizing the school work prior to the opening of the fall term.

New Chieftain at Meeting.

Purchase of a new automobile for Building Superintendent John Hughes was also approved by the board.

Superintendent-elect Means discussed vacancies in the teaching staff. He was authorized to select teachers for these places, submitting his recommendations to the board at the next meeting.

In the absence of President Fred O. Glenn, who left yesterday on a business trip to Ann Arbor, Mich., Vice-President Ferguson presided at last night's meeting. Member Collin F. Klusey was also absent.

TRAFFIC CRASH VICTIM DIES

DAYTON, O., Aug. 2.—(INS).—Captain Henry W. Moore, New York, who was in an automobile crash-up with an interurban car near here yesterday, died in a local hospital today.

Co-ed Killing Told

right hand clutched a bloody handkerchief. We hastened across the field and I found a farmer. I brought him back, asked him to guard the body, and then my companion and I drove into the city and notified the police.

The witness told how the police went to the scene and how the police photographer took pictures of the body.

Two photographs were introduced by the state as evidence. The witness was shown the pictures. Were the photographs true likenesses of the body as found by you? The witness replied that they were.

Farmer Corroborates Story.

Young Kumlauf was excused and Ephraim Johnson, a 76-year-old farmer, was called to the stand. He corroborated Kumlauf's testimony.

"I was ploughing when I saw two young fellows running toward me," said Johnson. "They shouted that there was a woman's body lying back near the road. We went back there and I saw the body. She was lying face downward."

"I told the two young fellows they better go notify the police. They did."

Snook, reclining in an orange, black and green beach chair which had been provided for him because he is indisposed as a result of a spinal fluid operation, listened to the testimony without showing the slightest emotion.

The witness was saying:

"Her face was bruised and covered with dry blood and she was in bad shape," but the defendant continued to gaze at the ceiling as if he did not hear him.

Courtroom Thronged.

The courtroom was again thronged to its capacity. Women and girls were banded five deep around the walls and at the main entrance to the courtroom a group of more than 50 spectators were massed.

On cross-examination, Defense Attorney John F. Seidel asked the elderly, bald-headed farmer:

"Isn't it a fact, Mr. Johnson, that many petting parties take place out near the rifle range?"

"Oh, yes, indeed, lots of them," replied Johnson.

The witness was excused and John P. May, police corporal, took the stand. He was one of the officers who went to the scene after the two boys had reported the finding of the co-ed's body.

May described the position of the body when the police arrived. In her right hand, he said, she clutched a bloody handkerchief as she lay almost flat on her face.

"She wore a wrist watch, the hands of which had stopped at 10 o'clock," the police officer declared.

In considerable detail he described the condition of the girl's bloody head which had been struck a dozen or more hammer blows. There was a scratch on her abdomen about two inches long. There was a deep cut on her throat. Her long hair fell across it.

Snook heard all this without batting an eye. He lay in his beach chair, his head resting under his hands and gazing upward at the courtroom ceiling.

Pictures Identified.

Homer Richter, police photographer, identified several pictures he had taken at the scene.

The state endeavored to introduce a "picture of Dr. Snook's hand" taken June 19, the day he is alleged to have committed the murder. There was an abrasion on the hand, the picture shows.

However, the defense objected and the court held up the introduction of the picture as evidence.

Floyd McCormick, newspaper photographer, identified pictures of the slain girl he had taken at the morgue. One of them showed her mashed right hand.

He was asked one question on cross-examination:

"You have no way of knowing what was done with the hand before you took the picture?"

"No, I have not."

Defense attorney Seidel requested that the court separate the witnesses. He claimed witnesses were seen in the courtroom. The judge complied with the request.

Coroner Joseph Murphy described the condition of Miss Hix's body when the authorities arrived on the scene. He explained the various blows on the head.

"Her skirt was disarranged," said the coroner. "Her underclothing was cut."

J. J. DICKEY, ON JOB 23 YEARS AT SIGNA, COUNTY'S OLDEST P. M.

Columbiana county's oldest government official in point of continuous service in the rural zones is Postmaster John Jefferson Dickey, of Signa. For 23 years he has handled the incoming and distributed the outgoing mail there.

He has served since 1906 when Theodore Roosevelt was president.

"No one else apparently wanted the job," is his comment on his long occupancy of the position.

There is a platform in front of his store in which the postoffice is located and it extends to the tracks of the Pittsburgh, Lisbon and Western railroad. He thus meets four trains a day, two going to Lisbon and the same number to New Glillee, the other terminal of the road.

Between times he attends to the duties of the store.

Dickey knew the late William McKinley well. He was also a close friend of the late Judge R. W. Taylor. "Judge Taylor ate at my home when he was a candidate for office," said Dickey today. "Of course, he was elected."

All candidates who eat with me are certain of election. I have observed this in the various elections and primaries of the past."

Dickey has grown white in his country's service. At that he is not an old man. He has a rich vein of humor which he releases easily.

C. D. Van Camp, Columbus: two and one-half inch Scioto rock, laid as sheet asphalt, $16,700; two-inch Scioto rock, $13,800.

FLYWHEEL KILLS OHIO THRESHER

EATON, O., Aug. 2.—(INS).—William H. Everding, 65, was killed here today when the flywheel of a threshing tractor flew off the shaft and struck him on the head.

Everding was threshing on the Cross farm west of here.

Man's Body Found in Creek

CANTON, O., Aug. 2.—(INS).—The body of an unidentified man about 45 years of age, was taken from the creek at Robertsville, near here today by threshers. Coroner T. C. McQuate said he believed the man was a suicide.

Twenty Suspects Held in Slaying

CLEVELAND, Aug. 2.—(INS).—More than 20 suspects were held by police authorities here today for questioning in connection with the slaying of Leo M. Klein, 38, alleged tipster for federal dry agents.

Klein's body was found murdered and wrapped in a tarpaulin in his automobile.

HOLLIDAYS COVE BOY DROWNS

Nick Levis, 7, Loses
Life in Ohio River.

HOLLIDAYS COVE, W. Va. Aug. 2.—Nick, 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Levis, was drowned while bathing in the Ohio river near the new Port Steuben bridge at 5 o'clock last night.

He was a member of a swimming party. None of his companions witnessed the tragedy.

He was taken to the Ohio Valley hospital at Steubenville, O., where an effort to resuscitate him with the use of a lung motor failed.

STATE BANK TAX

FIGHT IN COURT

STEUBENVILLE, O., Aug. 2.—The Toronto National bank and the First National bank of Dillonville filed suits in the Jefferson county court today to restrain County Treasurer Minnie B. Speaker from collecting the state tax on national bank stock. Judge J. S. Paisley has issued a temporary injunction pending a decision in the suit.

ERIE CONDUCTOR

KILLED BY TRAIN

AKRON, O., Aug. 2.—(INS).—M. E. Smith, 40, of Marion, conductor, working with a wrecking crew of the Erie railroad, was killed today when he was struck by a fast freight train near Barborton.

The body was taken to a funeral parlor. It will probably be sent to Marion today for burial.

4-H Club's Panhandle Camp Opens Monday

Hancock Will Send 40 Representatives to Oglebay Park, Wheeling.

CHESTER, W. Va., Aug. 2.—Hancock county will send 40 representatives to the seventh annual Panhandle camp for members of the 4-H clubs which will open Monday night at Oglebay park, Wheeling. Ohio county will have a similar number, while 25 members will represent Brooke county.

Living quarters will be provided for the girls in the Oglebay dormitories, while the boys will be quartered in the upper floor of one of the barns on the estate.

Fifteen boys and girls will be awarded club pins by C. E. Stockdale, state agent.

A special program has been arranged for Thursday, when the camp will be open for public inspection. Members of the faculty and classes are:

A. B. Brooks, nature work; Adele Bigelow, vespers; Mrs. Nova Thomas, paper belt making; George Billick, manual training; W. C. Gumbel, athletics; Alma Milliken, pocket book making; Helen Simms, rubber toy making; Frank Simms, leather work; Elizabeth Haight, music; Fern McCord, Swedish weaving; Anna Sampson, portfolio making; C. E. Stockdale, charting.

Other instructors include: Virginia Silverthorne, Gladys Steele, Jessie Stewart.

Directors for the camp are: J. Earle Romine, Adele Bigelow, W. C. Gist and W. C. Gumbel.

STATE'S DIRECT TAX INCREASED

Board of Public Works Adds Six Cents to Levy.

A direct levy of 19 cents on each $100 valuation in the state to raise a total of $3,800,000 was made yesterday for the fiscal year by the board of public works, composed of Governor W. G. Conley and the other six elective officers of the state.

The levy represents an increase of six cents over the levy for 1928, which was 13 cents. Officials estimated $200,000 would be raised by each cent of the levy. The division of the direct levy was: General, 10 cents to raise $2,000,000; capital building, five cents to raise $1,000,000, and Virginia debt, four cents to raise $800,000.

VISITING PASTORS TO PREACH HERE

August 11—The Rev. James F. Ward, of Struthers, O., former pastor of the Chester Nazarene church.

August 18—The Rev. David A. Reed, of Phoenix, Md., a former resident of this section.

August 25—The Rev. J. W. Dunbar, of Colerain, O., former pastor of the local church.

There will be no evening service during the month.

LIEUT. R. G. MCKEE TO WED AUG. 10

The Rev. W. T. McKee, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, accompanied by his wife and daughter, Miss Helen McKee, left today for Laconia, N. H., where the former will officiate at the marriage of his son, Lieutenant Richard G. McKee, and Miss Louise Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas, on Aug. 10.

Lieutenant McKee, who graduated from West Point, is stationed at the University of Maine at Orono, Me.

400,000 Women Report Benefit by actual record

"Have you received benefit from taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?"

A questionnaire enclosed with every bottle of medicine has brought, to date, over 400,000 replies. The overwhelming majority—in fact, ninety-eight out of a hundred—says, "Yes." If this dependable medicine has helped so many women, isn't it reasonable to suppose that it will help you too? Get a bottle from your druggist today.

HOLD CONSTABLE IN DEATH CASE

Wayne County Officer Charged With Slaying Lumberman.

WAYNE, W. Va., Aug. 2.—(INS.)—While conflicting stories were being studied by authorities, Wayne county officials moved to bring Noah Fields, a constable, before Magistrate C. E. Walker, today, for a preliminary hearing in connection with the slaying of Andrew Justice, a lumberman of Louisa, Ky., at Crum, a remote hamlet near here.

Constable Fields is said to have admitted killing Justice Wednesday night but declared he shot in self defense after a gun battle.

However, Justice's brother, Virgil, told state police an entirely different story, according to Sergeant Evan Hall.

He said that he and his brother were enroute to Louisa from William son. A car passed and attempted to block the road ahead of them. Justice swerved the car and as he did so a shot rang out, Virgil declared.

Andrew Justice answered the shot and then sped for Crum with the other car in pursuit. A flat tire halted the Justice auto in front of a lunchroom. Andrew Justice ran into it just as the other car drew up. Pleading for his life, Andrew dashed into the back room and was followed by the constable, Virgil told state police.

Three shots were heard and Andrew Justice's body was found. Fields said he fired only when Justice fired first.

S. R. Lovelace, proprietor of the lunchroom, corroborated Virgil's story, state police said.

WEIRTON BAKER IS HEAT VICTIM

The heat claimed its first victim of the year yesterday in this district when Alex Simododias, 49, Weirton, employed as a baker by the Ohio Valley Baking company, dropped dead while at work.

BRIDGE PARTY IS GIVEN IN HONOR OF MRS. LEONARD WEBBER, BRIDE

HONORING MRS. LEONARD WEBBER, a recent bride, Mrs. Ambrose E. Webber entertained a group of friends yesterday afternoon in her home in West Fourth street. The home was decorated with baskets of summer flowers in pastel shades.

Nine tables of bridge were in play, honors being awarded Mrs. John S. Goodwin and Mrs. Hugh McNicol.

Gifts were presented to the honor guest, and Miss Melio Kenney, who will leave in the near future to make her home in California, and Miss Betty Cousin of New York City, who is the house guest of Mrs. Charles F. Goodwin.

Miniature bouquets were given as favors.

The hostess was assisted in serving by Mrs. Emmett Campbell.

Cut-of-town guests included Miss Cousin of New York City; Mrs. Alfred Jacobs and Mrs. Drexel Scott of Youngstown, and Mrs. George Patterson, both of Wellsville.

Young People's Unit Gives Program.

Miss Varetta McGraw received members of the Ceramic Young People's branch of the Women's Christian Temperance union last night in her home, Burrows avenue, Maplewood. Mrs. R. W. Johnston was in charge of the devotionals, and Mrs. C. R. Reese offered prayer. Selections were sung by the assembly, after which the president, Miss Georgia White conducted a business session. Misses Mary Hays, Marie Baughman and Dolores McGraw were enrolled as members.

Miss McGraw was appointed captain in the "Youth's Roll Call" contest, while Miss Virginia Hall was named lieutenant.

During the social period, Miss Quinn gave piano selections; Misses Elizabeth and Ellen McGraw, a vocal duet accompanied by Miss Dolores McGraw; Miss Mildred Guinn, a reading; Miss Lorraine Wathey, solos, accompanied by Miss Georgia White. Mrs. Reese made an address.

Sweetpeas were used in the appointments of the luncheon served by the hostess' mother, Mrs. George McGraw, assisted by Miss Mary Hays. The next meeting will be held Thursday, August 15, in the home of Mrs. Reese, Ambrose avenue.

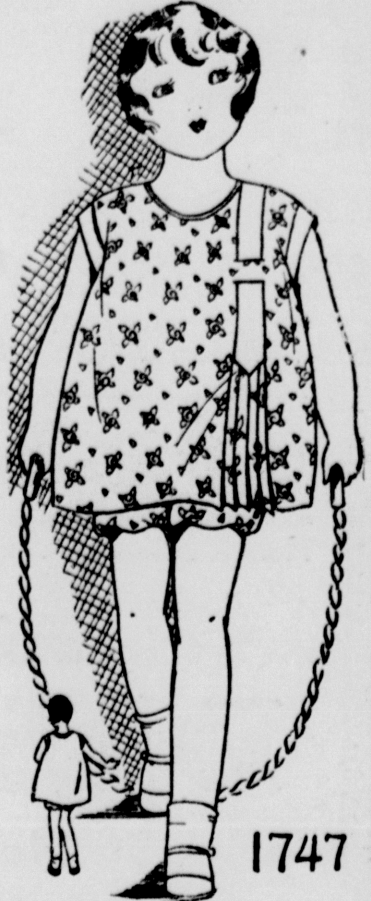

Club Members Attend Picnic.

Fourteen members of the Happy-Go-Lucky club attended a basket picnic last night at Rock Springs park, Chester. Swimming and park amusements were diversions.

The next meeting of the club will be held in two weeks at the home of Miss Helen Mills, Virginia avenue, Chester.

"Cunning Model For Tot"

PATTERN 1747
The Review 15c Practical Pattern

An unusually attractive frock is created by the use of side trimming consisting of a narrow strap pulled through slits in the fabric, and a group of pleats that find their way from the strap down.

Printed percale, gingham, linen, pique or dimity may be used in making Design 1747, with white pique for cuffs and strap. Becoming and seasonal colors are red, green, blue and yellow trimmed with white.

May be obtained only in sizes 2, 4, 6 and 8.

Size 4 requires 2 1/8 yards of 36 inch materials and 12 yard trimming.

This model is easy to make. No dress-making experience is necessary. Each pattern comes to you with sample and exact instructions, including yardage for every size. A perfect fit is guaranteed.

Patterns will be delivered upon receipt of FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in coins carefully wrapped or stamps. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, STYLE NUMBER AND SIZE wanted.

Our LATEST FASHION BOOK will be sent upon receipt of TEN CENTS in coin. Address all mail and orders to The Review Pattern Department, 243 West 17th Street, New York City.

Nice People Avoid Perspiration Odor
If you perspire under arms there is sure to be odor. You may not notice it, but others do. Don't risk giving offense. Use Kora Konia — the soothing deodorant. A remarkable new powder discovered by Mennen—producers of the finest shaving creams, talcums and baby powders. It neutralizes perspiration acids and prevents odors. Regular application keeps you free from odor all day. Kora Konia also absorbs excess perspiration; avoids unsightly moisture, thus preventing injury to garments. Soothes and heals raw, rubbed skin. Stops the burning and itching. Don't let a disagreeable odor destroy your charm. Use Kora Konia liberally and frequently wherever perspiration occurs. Use also on sanitary pad. Apply to feet to keep perspiration from injuring hosiery. At all druggists.—Adv.

SURVEYOR BOAT AT WELLSVILLE

Soundings and Survey Will be Made at Baker's Island.

Government surveyor boat No. 2, stationed at the Broadway wharf for two weeks, is at Baker's Island, near Wellsville, today, where soundings will be made of the channel and surveys recorded of the shore lines. Surveyman C. C. Hanlon and five engineers are in charge of the work.

River stages at noon today at Dam No. 8 were 15.6 feet in the upper pool and 9.6 feet in the lower pool.

The steamer Queen City will arrive here tonight for freight and passengers enroute to Pittsburgh from Cincinnati.

The towboat Old Reliable passed here yesterday for Pittsburgh with two empty barges. The Indian was enroute yesterday to Point Pleasant, W. Va., with two barges of contractor's supplies. The Transporter towed 10 barges of coal to Steubenville. The Allegheny, with two barges of coke, one of flue dust, and three of pig iron, went to Mingo yesterday. The Catherine Davis passed here yesterday for Sewickley, Pa.

"ROBIN" MOTOR DESIGNER HURT

Arthur Nutt's Plane Crashes Into Skyway Craft.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 2.—(INS.)—Arthur Nutt, chief engineer of the Curtis Aeroplane and Motor Company, of Buffalo and designer of the Curtiss Challenger motor which was used in the recent record-breaking flight of the St. Louis Robin, was in a serious condition at a Berea hospital today from injuries received when the plane in which he was taking off at the Cleveland airport for Buffalo, crashed into a cabin plane operated by W. A. Warrick, president of Skyways Inc.

Nutt suffered a fractured jaw, concussion of the brain and lacerations of the face, arms and legs, according to hospital attaches. Warrick escaped uninjured.

F. A. Smith, manager of the Hotel Statler branch of the Marine Trust Company, of Buffalo, who was a passenger in the Curtiss Robin plane with Nutt, likewise escaped uninjured. Nutt and Smith, who were enroute from St. Louis to Buffalo, had stopped at the Cleveland airport for gasoline. Just as they were starting their run for a takeoff, Warrick, who had been to Lorain, was gliding to land. According to witnesses, Nutt apparently saw Warrick's plane just before he had gathered flying speed. Taking a chance to avoid a collision, Nutt pulled his craft up sharply but the left wing-tip of his plane struck the upper wing of Warrick's biplane, dashing the Robin to earth.

Airport attaches stated today that they believed the crash resulted from the fact that Nutt took off without waiting for Warrick's plane to land.

NEVER NOX GASOLINE

Colored Purple - A Mark of Distinction

NEVER NOX GASOLINE is a pure petroleum product made from California Crude Oil. Crude Oil produced in California, refined by the latest and most modern cracking and high pressure system, produces the finest grade of Anti-Knock Gasoline known to the world today.

NEVER NOX GASOLINE insures you easier starting, quicker acceleration, smoother power and more miles per gallon than ordinary gasoline. Best by test, either in your car or in the laboratory. A premium Motor Fuel at no extra cost to you. Worth 3c to 5c per gallon more but priced the same as ordinary gasoline.

100% Alemite Service

Read what it means to you and your car

A MAN walked into a restaurant and on the wall he noticed two signs.

One read, "Coffee 3 cents." The other, "Coffee 5 cents—BUT COFFEE."

Now that's the way with lubrication service for your car. There may be a slight difference in the cost, but a great deal of difference in the lubricants used and the method of using them.

Our station is a 100% Alemite Service Station. That means, First, that only genuine Alemite Lubricants are used. Lubricants that are made to defeat friction and not to meet a price.

Second, it means briefly, thorough lubrication of all chassis bearings, lubrication of gears and spraying of springs. And this is done with special Alemite equipment which forces the lubricants to vital points under many hundreds of pounds of pressure.

We want every motorist to try this service. You'll notice at once an improvement in the way your car runs. And, of more importance, you will notice an appreciable reduction in repair expenses.

FOUR ARRESTED AT DOG TRACK

Fate of Northfield Track
Hinges Upon Court Case.

AKRON, O., Aug. 2.—(INS)—The fate of the Northfield dog oval and its new system of betting today hinged upon the outcome of cases against four men who were arrested by Summit county officers as calculators and clerks at the opening of the track last night.

Two of the four men, all of whom were charged with permitting gambling on the race track, were held under $1,000 bond for hearing before the Summit county grand jury today.
The two others were scheduled to be tried before Mayor William Burns of Northfield.

The men were Joseph Brown of Cleveland, ticket seller; Edward Morris of Cleveland, cashier; Edward Ongels of Akron, clerk, and Henry
Schumaker of Akron, clerk.

Sheriff Jacob Bollinger of Summit county asserted today that the track will be permanently closed if the prosecutions prove successful.

Meantime, A. L. Spindler, of Chicago, general manager of the track, sought the best legal talent possible to defend the arrested men and to have the betting system in operation at the track upheld.

The arrests last night took place after two races had been run. Six races were held after the arrests had taken place.

All of the difficulties at the track, which is located on the boundary line between Cuyahoga and Summit counties, took place on the Summit county side of the track. Betting cages on the Cuyahoga county side were kept closed throughout the meet.

The cemetery which holds the bodies of persons buried in 1815 and doubtless earlier qualifies as one that is well kept.

Just now the mounds stand out by the presence on them of small American flags placed there since Memorial day.

There are several sandstone slabs over graves in the plot, mute evidence of the manner in which memories of the departed over a century ago were preserved. Some of them were at one time raised two or three feet. Others rest squarely upon the turf. Time has washed away the inscriptions on some of the older stones, but so well kept is the plot of ground that there is no sign of decay anywhere within it.

One Headstone 113 Years Old.

Among the oldest of the headstones is a small one chronicling the fact that beneath lies "Elizabeth E. Dawson, born April 27, 1815, and who passed away the following March 9."

One of the oldest sandstones cover the grave of John Spear, a printer and book publisher. He died at 64 years of age, having been born in Philadelphia. It was noted that he died at Spear's Mill in October of 1841, several years before the Mexican war and the discovery of gold in California.

Name of John Spear
Is on Oldest Sandstone.

The plot also holds the body of Dr.
John Coburn, who, at 48, died on September 19, 1870.

An arresting stone is that over the graves of John and Rachael Armstrong, the former having passed on in 1894 at 87 and the latter in 1895 at 84. The stone records the names of ten children, giving their years of births and death in order.

Dirt Road Leads to Pike.

A singular fact of their passing is that six of them succumbed in 1861 during an epidemic of fever.

Daniel and Margaret Herbert, that is their mortal remains, have been lying on this quiet spot since 1848 and 1845, respectively.

But age has not been permitted to cause a condition of abandon to penetrate the place.

A recent storm has blown a large limb of an overhanging oak tree across one of the roadways leading to the spot, but it remains passable despite this fact.

And to the southwest of it is a dirt road leading to the Calcutta pike or St. Clair roadway.

KATIES COP EXTRA INNING CONTEST AT NEWELL, 2-1

Laughlin Streak Is Snapped

Jack O'Brosky Limits West Virginians to Five Hits.

In the first extra-inning contest of the second half, the Katies last night defeated Homer Laughlin, 2 to 1, at Newell, Jack O'Brosky twirling a five-hit game to snap the West Virginians' winning streak.

The count was knotted at 1-1 at the end of the seventh and the rivals went into the eighth to play it out, the visitors chalking up the winning marker on a brace of singles, a sacrifice and a bad throw.

Both clubs scored in the second frame and although each had several opportunities to count in succeeding innings, neither was able to reach the plate until the Katies made it in the eighth.

Eddie Bayley, K. T. K. shortstop, had a big day at bat, collecting three singles and a sacrifice in four trips up, his sacrifice fly to right in the final canto scoring Schultz with the winning tally.

Pollock led the Newell swatters with two safe smacks in three trips to the plate.

Witherow contributed a fine running catch of Finley's line drive in the sixth and Mosser made a brilliant stop of Coleman's hard hit fly to left in the third.

O'Brosky in Form. O'Brosky hurled a steady, consistent game all day and only in the second did the losers bunch singles off his slants.

With one down, Bayley singled in the first and stole second. While Dugman was pitching to Jack O'Brosky, Bayley wandered too far away from the second sack and was trapped, momentarily. Dugman threw off balance to second. The ball went low and slipped into center field, Bayley scoring.

But Laughlin evened it up in the second. With one out Tony Randall doubled to left. Both Bayley and Coleman got under the hit, which looped into short left and each thinking the other was about to grab it, left it fall between them. Pollock then crashed out a three-bagger to center, Randall coming.

Pumphrey and Bayley singled in succession in the fourth, with one gone but Jack O'Brosky hit into a double play.

Andy O'Brosky got around as far as third in the sixth. He singled and moved up two notches on sacrifices by Sayres and Witherow but perished at the hot corner when Coleman fanned.

The Newell club also had a golden opportunity to break the deadlock in the same inning but they, too, failed to make it. After Baker had fanned, Watson tripled to left-center. Mosser then fanned and Finley skied to Witherow.

Coleman Has Final Putout. For the second time within a few weeks, the burden of victory, or defeat, rested on the shoulders of Claire Coleman last night. At Chester a short time ago Coleman retired the last man when he stopped a hard drive at second with the tying run on the sacks.

Two runners were on in the eighth last night when Coleman faced the same situation. Baker fanned but Watson was safe when his drive got through A. O'Brosky at third. Mosser flew out to Coleman but Finley got a walk. With Dugman, a hard clubber, at the bat, the Katies' chances at the moment didn't look any too rosy, despite their one-run lead. Dugman's bat met the ball squarely and it lined out to left. But Coleman started with the crack of the bat and scooped in the ball for the third out.

CERAMIC GOLFERS LOSE, 58-53

Youngstown Club Evens Series With Locals.

Golfers of the East Liverpool Country club are all even with niblick wielders of the Tippecanoe Country club, Youngstown, as a result of their downfall yesterday on the Mahoning course.

Local players' shots were not functioning as accurately as they did here when they won from the Tippecanoes in their opening match of the season, and, as a result, came out second best by a score of 58 to 53.

Approximately 40 members of the local club took part in the match.

A return match with the Steubenville Country club on Saturday, Aug. 31, will conclude the local golfers' inter-club play for the year. The Steubenville match will be staged here.

Eighteen hole match play against par is the scheduled event for tomorrow afternoon on the local course. Competitors will perform under three-fourths handicap.

Finals in both flights of the Hall Memorial tournament also are scheduled for the weekend. J. M. Wells and William Tefft meet in the championship flight and H. A. Smith and J. T. Hall in the second division.

Hey, Fans! Meet Chuck Klein, the new slugging sensation of the big leagues. At left is a closeup of Chuck's death grip on a bat. Center shows him up at bat, and right, selecting one of his war clubs. This boy has had a phenomenal record in his short big league career.

In the spring of 1928 there came to the Philadelphia National league club, a red-headed, left-handed outfielder by the name of Charley Klein. He was said to be a fair hitter and a worse outfielder.

With Fort Wayne of the Central league he didn't show much ability. Klein finished the 1928 schedule with the Phillies with a batting mark of .360. He had 11 home runs and only three errors chalked up against him.

Thinking this was only a flash in the pan, sports scribes did not pay much attention to him in 1929 until he began breaking fences all over the circuit. Now, midway in the season, Klein has amassed an imposing total of home runs, leading both leagues, and is the proud possessor of a batting average of .364, fourth highest in the National league.

Klein is one of the very few men in the history of baseball who has hit five home runs in three consecutive games. This he accomplished recently. Klein's story is one of the strangest of any ball player in the game today. Instead of cracking under the tremendous impetus of a major league opportunity, he has become a better fielder and a vastly improved hitter.

AGATHONS, GRAYS PLAY IN MIDLAND

MIDLAND, Pa., Aug. 2.—Negotiations were completed yesterday for the appearance of two of the foremost semi-pro baseball clubs of this section of the country here Saturday.

The Homestead Grays and the Massillon Agathons have been scheduled to battle at Twelfth street park at 3:45 p. m. or 2:45 East Liverpool time.

COLORED STARS AT YOUNGSTOWN

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Aug. 2.—The Youngstown Oaklanders will clash with the Homestead Grays in the third game of their series Sunday, August 4, at Idora park here. Each club has won a game.

The Sunday encounter is scheduled for 3 o'clock.

RANDALL TO BOX AT JUNCTION

Pittsburgh Star to Meet Either Petrolle or Lucas.

Tiger Joe Randall, the Pittsburgh colored welterweight, who, by reason of his victories over Young Rudy and Dominick Profio in the last six months, has arisen to a position of prominence in western Pennsylvania ring affairs, will box either Frankie Petrolle, Syracuse, N. Y., or Mike Lucas, Cleveland, in the 10-round main bout at Junction park Thursday night of next week.

In his last three fights, Randall twice knocked out Dominick Profio, the Cecil, Pa., Italian, and also disposed of Young Rudy, Red Mason's protegee, and erasing such punches as this pair from the landscape is not being done habitually.

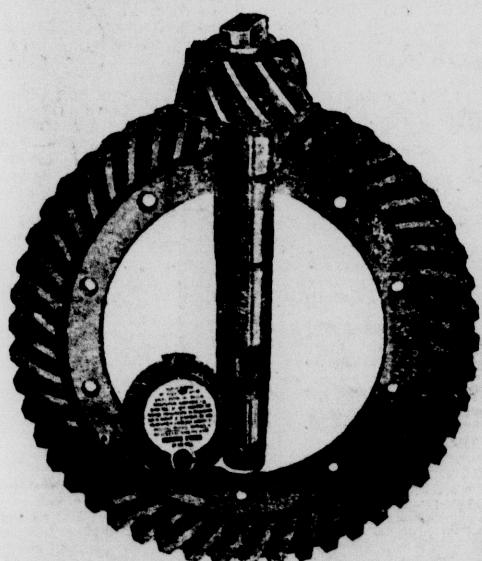

Dick Ramies, who made a favorable impression with western Pennsylvania fight fans in recent scraps, failed to knock out Rudy in their fight at the Junction several weeks ago, although he had him in bad shape. But when Tiger Joe Randall asked Rudy in the fifth round, the Charleroi welterweight stayed kayoed.

Alexander Ties Matty's National League Record

42-year Old Cardinal Veteran Hangs up 372 Victories as he Beats Brooklyn; Petty Defeats Phillies.

By Les Conklin.

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—Grover Cleveland Alexander will be shooting a new record of total victories for a Simon-pure National league pitcher the next afternoon he ambles to the mound. By beating Brooklyn yesterday, 5 to 2, while the endurance filers, Jackson and O'Brien, looked on, the grand old man of baseball performed an endurance feat on his own hook for he tied Christy Mathewson's record of 372 victories.

The Cardinal veteran, now 42, has no chance of approaching the record of Cy Young, who compiled 511 victories in 22 years of both National and American league pitching. But if such ancients as Red Faber and Jack Quinn can cheat Father Time year after year, it is barely possible that Old Pete may eclipse Walter Johnson's American league record of 415 games won.

The pennant race remains unchanged in the National league this morning, as all the other first division teams won. Jess Petty of the Pirates came to life and turned in his first full game of the season at Forbes field, beating the Phillies 3 to 1, thanks to Comorosky's triple off Harold Elliott, a rookie, with the bases loaded to the gills.

Guy Bush of the Cubs has won 15 games against only one defeat. He scored his ninth successive triumph by capturing a brilliant 1 to 0 duel with Ben Cantwell of the Braves, although Chicago was outbatted by five hits to three.

Larry Benton of the Giants stopped the Reds cold, 6 to 1. Tony Kaufman of New York got his first hit in 25 times at bat this season and now is only .362 points behind his average of last year, when he batted .402 with the Rochester Internationals.

Bishop and Simmons wielded a wicked willow as the Athletics out-slugged Detroit, 7 to 4. George Earnshaw was knocked out by the Tigers but was credited with his seventeenth win of the season, tying his teammate, Lefty Grove, for the league lead in total games won.

The A's stretched their lead over the Yankees to 10 1/2 games, as Roy Sherid, New York rookie, lost a 3 to 2 duel to Ted Lyons of the White Sox on a triple by Shires in the eighth. Babe Ruth's 25th homer and another by Combs gave the Yanks their tally.

The Browns gave Rip Collins a 9 to 1 lead but he blew up in the seventh and his successors were no better, the Senators scoring five runs in the seventh and seven more in the eighth for a 13 to 9 triumph.

Cleveland also gave Jimmy Zinn a 9 to 1 lead over the Red Sox and he managed to hold it, eventually winning by a 10 to 3 count.

BEATTY RALLY HERE TONIGHT

Mayoralty Candidate Will Speak in Mulberry Street.

James C. B. Beatty, pottery salesman, will open his campaign for the Democratic mayoralty nomination at the August primary with an outdoor address at 8 o'clock tonight in Mulberry street. He will discuss "Industrial Conditions."

Beatty, who is opposing Mayor Ralph C. Benedum, announced today that he planned two street meetings in the downtown district next week, to be held in front of the Carnegie library, East Fourth street.

Boyce Church Garden Party.

Garden party was held last night on the grounds of the Boyce Methodist Episcopal church by women of the congregation.

East End Personals.

Mrs. Alice Fowler is ill at her home in Denver street.

The Rev. R. R. Richards has returned to his home in Pensborough, W. Va., after a three-day visit with his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Sauer, Needham street.

Mr. and Mrs. V. P. Neiser, Michigan avenue, left yesterday on an automobile trip to Niagara Falls, N. Y.

TOKYO HOUSE RENTS MOUNT

TOKYO.—With house rentals in Tokyo mounting steadily after the land readjustment, residents of Tokyo have been deserting the city for the suburbs.

At present a total of 65,000 houses, or more than 20 per cent of the total number of residential houses in the city, are vacant, according to the social work bureau.

Five prizes of $50,000 each are to be awarded by the federal government of Australia for motion pictures produced in that country.

CLUB OUTING HELD AT PARK

Fourteen members of the Happy-Go-Lucky club attended the picnic held last night at the Rock Springs park, Chester. Games and contests were diversions.

Mesdames Wilma Kirk, Helen Allison and Helen Moore were the committee in charge.

Odd Fellows Meet.

Members of Pennova lodge No. 880, Odd Fellows, met last night in the I. O. O. F. temple, Mulberry street, when routine business was transacted.

Lawn Festival Held Here.

Large crowd attended the lawn festival last night at the home of Mrs. Mary Washington, Kent street, under the auspices of Ward No. 1 of the Second Baptist church.

HYATT FUNERAL SERVICES TODAY

Funeral services for William A. Hyatt, 81, formerly of East Liverpool, who died in the West Penn hospital, Pittsburgh, from a fractured skull sustained in a fall from the roof of a building, were held this afternoon in the home of his son, Carl, 500 Central avenue. The Rev. J. F. Dimit, pastor of the First Methodist Protestant church, was in charge. Burial was made in the Bethlehem cemetery, Shippingport, Pa.

CHURCH CLASS PLANS LUNCHEON

A coverdish luncheon will be served tonight following the business meeting of Class 14 in the parlors of the Second Presbyterian church, Virginia avenue, at 8 o'clock. Mrs. Charles Podewels will preside.

The Inside of Prohibition by Mabel Walker Willebrandt
Former Assistant U. S. Attorney General in Charge of Prohibition

NOW, for the first time an accurate story of what is behind the scenes in the attempt to make the United States dry. Has the eighteenth amendment been a success? What is the outlook for its future? How does politics effect enforcement? Mabel Walker Willebrandt discusses these problems in a frank, unbiased manner. You will want to read the entire series of articles which...

Mother, Father and Daughter Travel 60,000
Miles In Six Auto Trips to Pacific Coast

J. R. Hall Family Leaves
Tomorrow for Arizona.

Mr. and Mrs. James R. Hall and their daughter Linda, former St. Clair avenue restaurant owners, who have traveled more than twice the distance around the world in six automobile trips to the Pacific, will add 5,000 miles to their touring record before fall.

Marking their seventh cross-continent journey since they came to East Liverpool in 1916, they will leave tomorrow for Phoenix, Arizona, where they will remain until spring.

In six jaunts to California and return, they have traveled approximately 60,000 miles.

Formerly lived in Seattle. Mr. and Mrs. Hall and their children formerly lived in Seattle, Wash., where they located in 1898. Thirteen years ago they came to East Liverpool, where Hall accepted a position as a pottery decorator. About two years ago they established a restaurant business in the Frank Dickey property, adjoining the Central fire station, but retired last Saturday when the property was sold to the city for a fire station site.

Mr. and Mrs. Hall and their children have made motor trips to the Pacific coast every other year since coming here. On some occasions, the northern route through the Dakotas and Montana was followed. On others the route through New Mexico and Arizona was chosen. San Francisco, Los Angeles and other California places were visited each time.

On none of the trips have they traveled less than 9,000 miles. The visits ranged from two to six months.

The Halls carry complete camping equipment, including tents, cots, bed clothing, stove and cooking utensils. Whenever possible the nights are spent in tourists' cabins. If these are not available the tent and cots are used. Hall and his daughter alternate at the wheel of the automobile.

Drive 200 to 400 Miles a Day.

During their first journey to the Pacific coast there were few improved roads, especially in the western states. The distance covered each day ranged from 50 to 125 miles, depending largely upon the weather. Now with improved roads available, the average day's drive is from 200 to 400 miles. The trip from East Liverpool to Seattle made by the family in 1927 required but 12 days. Eleven days were spent from Los Angeles to East Liverpool on the trip four years ago.

The Hall family has done most of its traveling in the west. Petersburg, Va., is the farthest southern point they have visited. Hall made one trip into Canada but this was by train in the days before the automobile was popular.

Their trip this year will be made in a 1927 model Buick sedan. From East Liverpool the Lincoln highway will be followed through Canton and Mansfield, thence southwest through Delaware, Springfield, Richmond, Ind., Indianapolis, St. Louis, Kansas City and Denver. Their first stop will be at the Grand Canyon, where they plan to spend a month. From there they will go to Phoenix.

Rogers.

The Blackbird family reunion was held Saturday at Willow Grove park, Lisbon, with more than 100 present. Representatives were present from Pittsburgh, Beaver Falls, New Brighton, Koppel, Butler, Hillsville, Steffen Hill, Cannelton, Darlington, Canton, Alliance, Salem, East Palestine, Massillon and Rogers.

Dinner was served, after which a program of recitations and music was given. At the business session the following officers were elected: President, Frank Hunt, Darlington; vice president, William Walcott, of Beaver Falls; secretary, Mrs. Mayne Reed Stiffenbarger, East Palestine; treasurer, Homer McCowan of Cannelton; committee on sports, Albert Sampt, William Walcott and Mrs. Sarah Gishbacker, entertainment, Clarence Barresford, Mrs. Maude Elliott and Mrs. K. Reed.

Gifts were presented to H. H. Reed of Signal and Mrs. Dora Blackford of Rogers, they being the eldest of the relatives present.

MONTOUR LOSES SECOND ROUND IN RAIL FIGHT

Federal Commission Rules Against State Line Road.

PLAN NEW ROUTE

Another Application Will be Filed at Washington.

Second application of the Montour Railroad company for permission to connect the Mahoning valley steel district with the Ohio river by a short-cut line from the Youngstown & Suburban railroad to Smith Ferry, Pa., via Rogers, has been refused in a ruling handed down at Washington. It was announced today.

Another application for a new routing of the proposed road will be filed shortly, according to H. J. German, president of the Montour Railroad company.

The Pittsburgh Coal company owns the Montour corporation which has acquired control of the Pittsburgh, Lisbon & Western railroad between Lisbon and New Galilee.

The first application for a connecting railroad between the Ohio river and Youngstown was filed more than a year ago. It proposed two branches, one from Negley to Smiths Ferry and the other from Millbrook to Youngstown. The estimated cost was $7,000,000. This application was refused when the Pennsylvania, the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie and the Baltimore & Ohio railroads announced their willingness to grant a lower freight rate by a river-rail combination.

After acquiring control of the Youngstown & Suburban electric line between Youngstown and Leetonia, via North Lima and Columbiana, a new application was filed with the commission in May for a six-mile branch between Columbiana and Rogers, where the P. L. & W. line would be tapped, and then for a new line between Negley and Smiths Ferry. The commission refused to reopen the case on the second application.

The Pittsburgh Coal company which furnishes fuel to the Youngstown steel mills says that coal could be shipped to the mouth of Beaver creek in barges and then loaded into coal cars for shipment into Youngstown, a haul of but 40 miles. The freight rate on the water-rail arrangement would not exceed 75 cents a ton, it is asserted.

The Pittsburgh & Lake Erie and Pennsylvania railroads have filed proposed tariff schedules for the haul from the river to Youngstown of $1.02 a ton of coal. Youngstown consumers and Pittsburgh coal operators are opposing this, declaring it is too high to make the new route useful. The river haul would cost 30 cents a ton, so that, with the cost of transferring the coal from barges to cars, the total cost would be higher than the present all rail rate of $1.34 a ton.

Old-Fashioned Herbs With Iron Best Tonic On Earth

Mr. Walter C. Wolfe Says He Took Many So-Called Tonics But Never Found Anything to Equal "ORANGE ROOT" Iron & Celery Compound.

All men, women and children who are weak, underweight, puny, pale-faced and in a general rundown condition, are advised to investigate "ORANGE ROOT" Iron and Celery Compound. Composed of fresh, pure roots and herbs combined with IRON, it presents the most outstanding success in the medical world today. More than a half million persons have been benefited by it, as the great number of unsolicited testimonials received attests this fact.

Mr. Walter C. Wolfe, of R. F. D. No. 2, Wellsville, Ohio, near East Liverpool, has this to say about it: "Before taking ORANGE ROOT my system was chock full of rheumatic aches and pains. My stomach was in a terrible condition, for I could not eat a thing. I was weak, nervous, and all rundown. I felt tired and 'all-in' all the time. I tried many different medicines, but my condition failed to improve. Hearing so much about this ORANGE ROOT, I got started on it.

From the very first dose I began to improve. Since giving it a fair trial, all my rheumatic aches and pains have left me, my stomach trouble has been corrected, I eat heartily and my food seems to agree with me. In fact I feel like a different person. I have been strengthened and invigorated all over. The golden Nuggets are wonderful liver regulators, and all in all, I think these remedies the very best on earth, and heartily recommend them to my friends."

ORANGE ROOT contains Golden Seal, Nux Vomica, Celery, Ladys Slipper and a galaxy of roots and herbs long used in this country, combined with the purest IRON obtainable. It is BOUND to benefit you. Go at once to MATHEWS MEDICINE STORE, get 3 or 4 bottles of this most wonderful TONIC, a box of golden Nuggets, take them according to directions and WATCH THE SPEEDY improvement in your HEALTH. All live drug stores through this whole section sell these famous medicines. Prices TONIC $1.25, Nuggets 50c.

THIS BASS TOOK HOOK AND LINE

WINSTED, Conn.—William P. Davis drove from Winsted to New Hartford to fish for bass on a recent evening. He went out well equipped, and was back in less than an hour. What happened was this: he cast once from the shore with a plug, and instantly his plug, line, and pole were ripped out of his hand. The last he saw of the outfit it was swirling far out into the lake. He thinks a giant bass stole the outfit.

RECEIVER WILL BE NAMED FOR OHIO POTTERY

Albright Company Acts In Suit Against Merger.

CARROLLTON CASE

Court Denies Petition in Second Ceramic Action.

Application for a receiver for the Albright China company at Carrollton, pending settlement of the suit for "specific performance of contract" against the American Chinaware corporation, has been granted by Judge James G. Oglevee in the Carroll county common pleas courts at Carrollton, it was announced today. The receiver probably will be named today or tomorrow.

The request for the appointment of a receiver for the Carrollton Pottery company, also filed by the Albright company, was denied, the court holding that such a step would be unwarranted at this time because the plant is operating.

Hearing on the suit of the Albright company against the chinaware corporation in which the plaintiff seeks to compel the corporation to carry out its part of the agreement under which the Albright company became a part of the pottery merger, will be held later.

"BIG GAME"

Story of a girl who thought love more powerful than society.

By Vida Hurst

She did not blame her mother for losing every incentive to continue life with Joshua Darien. But in her fierce young heart she held her father responsible.

It was characteristic of the girl that she kept no photograph of her mother in the house she had hated. "I need no picture to remember you by," Mona whispered, staring with bright, hard gaze at the distant stars. She liked to think of her mother as released. Free! Her mother was in the breeze which fanned the curtains while Mona slept. In the gentle dark which pressed against her closing lids. In the sun which wakened her to new adventures.

Lying in bed, rehearsing the events of the evening, Mona found herself reliving the moment of Bruce's kiss. She tried to analyze it. Surely the most effective method for destroying any memory! But the incident remained elusively fascinating. As she closed her eyes she was thinking, mockingly, "He's probably lying awake mooning about Mabel."

Mabel, who this same day would become his wife But who had never kissed him as Mona had. Who never would. Stupid Bruce not to realize this before it was too late.

Awakening at 11, Mona smiled at her fancies of the night before. She lay happily, listening to the sparrows on the roof. It was early May. Clear, brilliant weather!

The wedding was to be at 4 o'clock. A church wedding, with Mona and Ruth as bridesmaids.

What a stunning bride Mabel would make! Her rich, dark, coloring and regular features gave her more claim to beauty than either of the other girls.

Ruth was a blond, but with a dark skin, and large, mournful eyes.

At heart Mona preferred Mabel and her tantrums to Ruth, with her modest, self-approving manner.

Ruth could be stubborn, too, albeit with no flicker of anger. Considering herself always right, she felt no necessity for violence. Let the rest of the world rave and tear it's hair!

Ruth would smile and turn another seam or nod, wisely, as if she might contribute something of priceless value if she wished. But why bother? Mabel was neither domestic nor artistic but Mona considered her more intelligent and enjoyed their clashes of opinion and rather heated arguments. Discussion with Ruth was impossible.

She sighed, realizing she was going to miss her friend. The newly married couple planned to go to Canada for their honeymoon. Mona could imagine Mabel in her languorous, seductive negligees — negligees so much more passionate than the girl herself — accepting Bruce's love.

Before she had finished breakfast, Mabel was telephoning.

"Do come over. They've sent the wrong kind of a cake. I ordered one with five tiers. They've only made it four. They would, wouldn't they?"

"Compose yourself, darling! No one will know the difference."

"I'll know it," wailed Mabel. "Come over anyway. I want you to see the flowers."

Mona promised and a moment later Ruth was on the wire.

"Isn't Bruce wonderful, Mona? So attentive! Anyone can see he's madly in love."

Mona stopped for Ruth. They found Mabel radiant. "Bruce has gone down to talk with the manager of the new advertising concern," she explained. "If they offer him enough he's going to take it."

"Oh, darling, then you can live here."

"Yes, isn't it grand? Bruce hates to give up his position in Chicago of course. But except in a business way he hasn't any friends. I tell him there are just as many opportunities here."

Her cheeks were glowing, her eyes sparkling with excitement. Mona had never seen her so attractive.

Florists were busy decorating the house. Mabel's father was not wealthy, but the girls knew he would spare no expense for his only daughter's wedding.

Mabel had attended the most fashionable schools, she had spent a summer in Europe. It was on shipboard that she and Bruce had met, and again later in Chicago where Mabel was visiting. Lucky Mabel! Everything seemed to be coming her way!

Yet Mona could not think of her as married. Less than a month ago she had told her friends she did not intend to have any children.

"No babies for me," she had asserted, confidently. "I wouldn't go thru that for any man."

"But, Mabel," Ruth had said, shocked, "when people are married..."

Mabel had laughed. Ruth was always protesting her innocence. Yet ever since they were 15 the three of them had dragged books from her father's library — ponderous, technical volumes, with words they couldn't understand and illustrations which sent their hearts fluttering up into their throats.

Inconspicuously, Mona was thinking of this while the ceremony was being performed. Wondering if Bruce knew that Mabel had no intention of becoming a mother while she repeated the words which made her Bruce's wife.

Not once during the wedding ceremony did Bruce take his eyes from Mabel's face.

Mabel was regally triumphant, beautiful. More queen than bride.

Watching, Mona fancied she knew why Bruce loved her.

Her aloofness no doubt seemed to him only purity, the remoteness of inexperience which his own passion would warm.

Mabel passed her bouquet to Mona while Bruce put the wedding ring on her finger. His face was eager. Mabel's wore a half smile of gratification. She was almost a married woman now. Almost Mrs. Bruce Berlon.

As she lifted her lips for her husband's kiss, Mona closed her eyes.

There was a great deal of gaiety at the reception afterward. The ushers, Johnnie and Dr. James Sampson were Mabel's life-long friends. Their hilarity was equaled by Mona's.

The three of them proposed toasts and made merry in a fashion Ruth considered most unbecoming. Ruth's eyes had been full of tears since early in the morning. She was "so thrilled."

She murmured, in little asides: "Oh, I'm so excited!" "Think of it, Mabel is getting married!"

It was Ruth who had caught the bride's bouquet.

"This means I'll be married next," she whispered, squeezing Mona's hand.

Ruth was "such a fool!" Every one didn't seem to think so, however. Mona saw Jim Sampson, who had practiced with Dr. Morehouse for the past year, saying something to Ruth, which made her blush rosily and shake her head.

The guests scattered tissue paper rose petals after the departing couple. Mabel thought rose petals were "nicer" than rice, and prudently had provided baskets of them.

Mona was standing at the top of the steps, with outstretched hands, when Bruce looked back. He was holding Mabel's hand and his glance was proudly confident.

"Goodbye!" he called.

Was there a challenge in that farewell? If so, Mona refused to recognize it.

But the sleepless night which followed sent her to Dr. Sampson's office.

"There's something the matter with me," Mona confessed.

"Just discovered it?" smiled Jim.

"I'm not joking," she said.

Jim dropped his playful air.

"I beg your pardon, Mona. You aren't in the habit of consulting me professionally and I didn't understand."

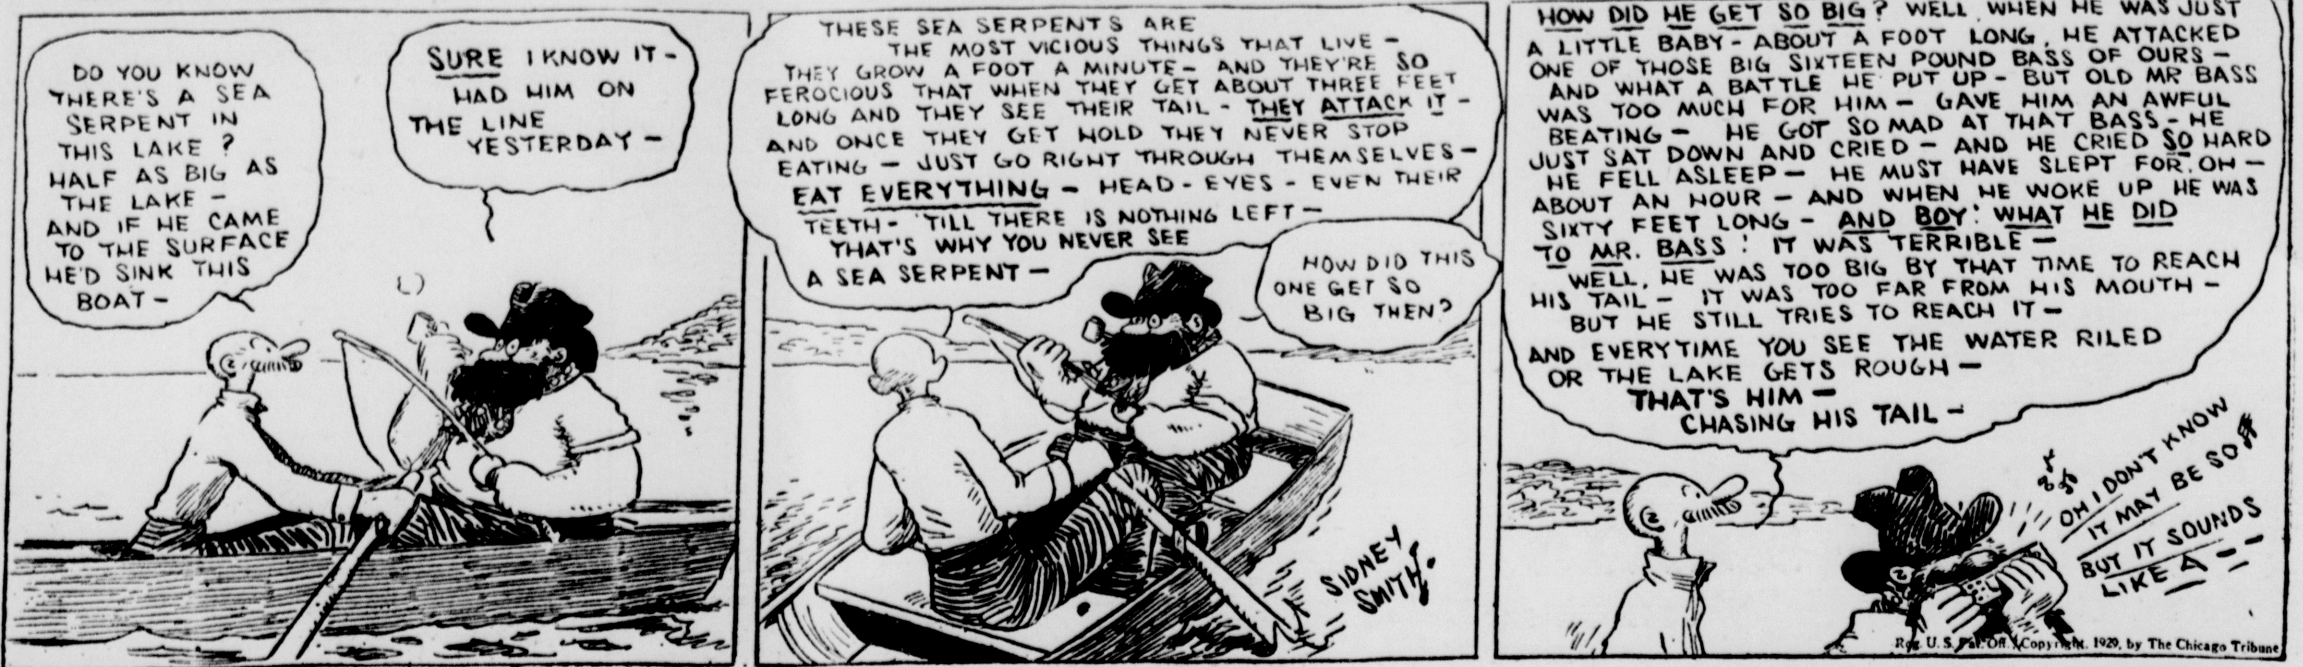

"I don't know whether this is professional or not," admitted Mona. "But I have to tell someone and Dr. Morehouse would only look at my tongue and give me a tonic."

"It probably would be the very thing you need," Jim insisted, noting her nervous hands. "You're running at too high speed, young lady. What's the symptoms? Can't sleep? Can't eat?"

"All of that," she agreed. "But the real trouble is something different." Suddenly she startled him by saying, "Oh, Jim, what's wrong with me? Why am I different from the other girls?"

with the new

TYDOL ETHYL

ZERO KNOCK RATING GASOLINE

Are you bothered by the constant ping, ping, ping of a noisy motor?

Fade it to zero . . . with the new TYDOL ETHYL.

Are you aggravated by a labored pound, pound, pound, when you're climbing hills?

Fade it to zero . . . with the new TYDOL ETHYL.

Are you tired of the spiteful knock, knock, knock, when you're plowing through mud and sand?

Fade it to zero . . . with the new TYDOL ETHYL.

For, like a lullaby quieting a cranky babe, this new Zero Knock Rating Gasoline will hush to sleep every protesting zing and pound of a stress-resenting engine. It stops the knock by removing the cause . . . by substituting the silent, powerful push of a silken fuel for the violent "hammer-blows" of ordinary gasolines.

For the new TYDOL ETHYL is an all-star combination of two of the greatest motor fuel advances of the decade. Hi-test TYDOL, the high-test, super-power, anti-knock fuel that has taken all motordom by storm. And ETHYL, the undisputed leader of anti-knock compounds.

With the smooth and mighty power-thrust of Hi-test TYDOL has been merged the famous "knock the knock" magic of ETHYL . . . forming a new super fuel with an absolute ZERO knock rating.

TYDOL ETHYL is a fuel for the car owner who demands the very best and will take no substitutes. And why should he? It costs but 3c more per gallon than ordinary gasolines.

Make a 10 Gallon Test

The next time you need gasoline drive up to a TYDOL ETHYL pump and try out ten gallons of this modern fuel. It will only cost you 30c more than 10 gallons of ordinary gas.

No more . . . perhaps less . . . than you have been paying for other premium gasolines.

But in any event, 30c is a small amount to gamble to prove to yourself just what a zero knock rating gasoline will do in your own car.

KNOCK RATING OF 6 PROMINENT PREMIUM GASOLINES

These 3 cent premium gasolines were tested on the Midgley (Bouncing Pin) Indicator according to an established standard scale over a period of 6 months, from November, 1928, to May, 1929, with the following results:

	MINIMUM KNOCK RATING	MAXIMUM KNOCK RATING	AVERAGE KNOCK RATING
Fuel A	6	10	9
Fuel B	5	13	8
Fuel C	0	5	2½
Fuel D	3	7	6½
Fuel E	3	5	4½

Federal Agents Pay Surprise Visit to Campbell.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 2.—(INS.)—Forty-nine alleged operators of speakeasies and "blind pigs" in the little town of Campbell, a steel suburb of Youngstown, were held in jail here today awaiting arraignment before United States commissioners. The prisoners were arrested in one of the most sensational and thorough raids ever conducted in this section of the state. Swooping down on the suburb, which is said to have run "wide open" for years, federal prohibition agents made a dramatic and surprise "wild west" invasion of the town, closing down speakeasies right and left, arresting their alleged operators, and dumping their liquor supplies into the gutters of the town's streets. The raiders—"It automobiles full of them"—were led into the alleged "liquor nest" by Deputy Prohibition Administrator John E. Wright of Cleveland and Paul Hansen, special investigator of the treasury department.

Owa-Ton-Na Brings Renewed Health to Local Resident

Stomach Disorders and a General Rundown Condition Responds to This Natural Treatment.

"Food caused gas to form in my stomach and I would belch a bitter, glary fluid. I would have headaches for days at a time which made me greatly discouraged," says Mrs. Mary Burrows, 123 W. Second street, East Liverpool, Ohio. "I suffered with constipation, dizzy spells and backaches and I never seemed to have any energy or pep, always tired and all in." "What a big change Owa-Ton-Na made in just such a short time. I could even notice a difference from the first bottle. Now I can eat almost anything I want without distress, food tastes good and my bowels act regularly. Headaches, dizzy spells and backaches are all a thing of the past. I suffered for years with running sores on my limbs and these have shown marked improvement due to my general condition being better. I feel better than I have for years. Owa-Ton-Na certainly has worked miracles for me. Anyone who is suffering should certainly give Owa-Ton-Na a trial as I feel they, too, will be surprised with the remarkable way it cleans up the system."
